THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXI. ATLANTA, GEORGIA, TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 3, 1889. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

REED IS SPEAKER.

BUT THE DEMOCRATIC CHAPLAIN IS ELECTED.

MR. COWLES'S CURIOUS VOTE

The Republicans Gather From all Sections to Witness the Opening of the Republican House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—[Special.]—This was a great day for the republican party. For the first time in six years they now control the house of representatives. To see them take charge republicans came from everywhere, and the house has not been so densely packed since the day the vote for president was officially counted last January. It didn't take long to elect officers, for the republican caucus on Saturday had settled that matter, and everybody knew who would be elected. The democratic caucus had also met and selected the man they should honor. Thus there was no excitement during the roll call until the clerk reached the name of Mr. Cowles, of North Carolina, the author of the famous Cowles tobacco bill, which split up the democratic party so badly during the last session of the last congress, and which Mr. Carlisle used his power as speaker to squelch. At the call of his name there was a moment's suspense. Then walked into the aisle and said:

MR. COWLES AROSE,

"I vote for Amos J. Cummings, of New York."

This created great surprise, and a titter of astonishment went through the hall. The democrats, almost to a man bore expressions of indignation, for it had just been decided in caucus to honor Mr. Carlisle with the democratic vote, and Mr. Cowles had not dissented. It was a compliment to Mr. Cummings, but grossly uncomplimentary to Mr. Carlisle, and a violation of the caucus agreement. Had he notified the caucus, say Mr. Carlisle's friends, it would have been all right for Mr. Cowles to have voted as he saw fit; but to have been in the caucus without dissenting, and then to vote in the house as he did, was a gross violation of the party pledges. Mr. Cowles, however, comes from what is known as a "moonshine district," in which, it is said, his action today will strengthen him.

Mr. Reed reciving 166 votes, against Mr. Carlisle's 154, was declared elected, and escorted to his seat by Mr. Carlisle and Major McKinley, amid great applause. Then, in truly dignified style, the first time Mr. Reed ever even made a pretense of dignify, he delivered his little speech, thanking the house for the honor conferred upon him, and then the house proceeded to the business of electing other officers. The only was when Cheadle, of Indiana, bolted the republican caucus action by nominating Dr. Milburn, the old blind democratic preacher for chaplain. A half dozen other republicans bolted with Cheadle, and although the republicans made efforts to whip them into line, they were determined not to mix politics and religion, and the blind man was elected. Then seats were drawn for, and many were the disappointed members. By a resolution Messrs. Carlisle, Randall, Kelley and Banks, all ex-speakers, except Judge Kelley, who is known as the father of the house, and who administered the oath to Speaker Reed, were allowed to select their seats. Mr. Perry, of South Carolina, drew the first choice. Then came Mr. Carlton, of Georgia. All the other Georgians except Judge Stewart were equally lucky, near together in the first triangle bordering in the main aisle. Major [illegible]rnes got the front seat on the main aisle, the most conspicuous in the house, and the one Mr. Stephens formerly occupied. Judge Stewart was among the last half dozen, and got one of the worst seats in the house, immediately against the north wall, and between Judge Holman and Major Martin. Mr. Mills, of Texas, was equally unfortunate, and was compelled to take a back seat. After the drawing for seats, the house adjourned.

AND GOT SPENDID SEATS

Hon. Samuel J. Randall is still in very bad health, and was unable to attend. He, however, will retain his old seat, and every member of the house hopes to see him occupy it very soon.

The Georgia Appropriations.

In the secretary of the treasury's estimate of appropriations needed for next year, he recommends the following amounts for Georgia. For wharf at the quarantine station, Sapelo island, $12,000; for a new light at St. Simon's light station, $1,000; establishment of light station at St. Catharine's sound, $20,000. Same at Doboy sound, $1,500, Water tank for artesian well at Augusta arsenal, $7,500. For continuing building operations at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, $75,000.

Road from Marietta to the national cemetery, $8,264.

The following appropriations are recommended: Flint river, $30,000; Chattahoochee, $40,000; Jekyl creek, $15,000; Ocmulgee, $30,000; Oconee, $25,000; Savannah, below Augusta, $50,000; Brunswick harbor, $62,500; Cumberland sound, $500,000; Savannah $500,000; for the Tennessee river below Chattanooga, $1,000,000 is recommended. For the Black Warrior, below Tuscaloosa, Ala., $300,000 is recommended. E. W. B,

SCENES IN THE SENATE.

Ladies Look Down From the Galleries—Senators From the New States.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—There was little or no excitement attending the opening of the fifty-first congress on the senate side of the capitol. Public curiosity seemed to be largely transferred to the house side. It was noticeable that while the senate galleries were pretty closely packed with spectators, the ladies were not in a majority as they usually are. They had prepared to witness the scenes in the house on such occasions. Several of the foreign delegates to the maritime and pan-American conferences and a number of ladies occupied seats in the diplomatic gallery.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, British minister and Admiral Koznekoff, of the Russian navy, were among those present.

The usual friendly greetings were interchanged on the floor between members and officers of the senate; and outside the sun was shining warm and bright in a clear, cloudless sky. Interest on the floor was devoted largely to the senators from the new states. They had had seats assigned to them on the republican side of the chamber. Senator Casey, of North Dakota, took his seat on the second row against the north wall. Directly behind him sat the Washington senators—Allen and Squires, while Pettigrew and Moody, of South Dakota, were in the fourth row, nearer the center of the room.

Senator Pierce, of North Dakota, has the end seat in the fourth row, but he was not present today.

On the democratic side are two seats, so far unassigned. They will be occupied by the senators from Montana, when they shall have been chosen. Flowers adorned the desks of several members. Senator Mitchell's desk was covered by a large mound, on the face of which was his name set in immortelles and surrounded by rows of roses. Other offerings were more modest, being merely bunches of roses, except in the case of Senator Blackburn, who received a floral horse shoe.

Senators Squires, Dawes, Hoar, Kenna, Farwell, Stewart, Payne, Hiscock and Chandler were also thus remembered by admiring friends, and the desk of Vice-President Morton was likewise handsomely decorated.

At noon Vice-President Morton entered the chamber, and the chaplain, Rev. J. G. Butler, opened the proceedings with an invocation for divine blessing, closing with the Lord's prayer, in which Senator Edmunds joined audibly. The oath of office was then administered by the vice-president to Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, for his new term.

The credentials of Nathan F. Dixon, senator-elect from the state of Rhode Island, were presented and read, and the oath of office administered to him. The credentials of Messrs. Moody and Pettigrew, senators-elect from the new state of South Dakota, were presented by Senators Platt and Spooner, and those of Messrs. Allen and Squires, of Washington, were presented by the vice-president.

These several credentials having been read, Mr. Platt moved that the oath of office be administered to the four new senators.

The motion was agreed to, and the four new senators, each of them escorted by a senator, proceeded to the clerk's desk, amid some applause from the galleries, and took the oath of office.

Mr. Hoar offered a resolution providing a mode for assigning senators from the states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Washington to their respective classes, (in relation to the period at which their terms will expire,) and moved its reference to committee on privileges and elections. He said that it had been the custom of the senate, ever since the organization of the government to assign new senators to their respective classes as soon as they had taken the oath, but that now, for the first time, senators from three states entered substantially at the same time. His resolution, he said, proceeded on the theory that the senators from the three states mentioned stood on an entire equality with reference to their opportunity to be assigned to the shorter or longer term. The three states were all admitted under the same act of congress. They were all admitted by virtue of proceedings that took place in them on the same day. The fact that the proclamations announcing the admission of the two Dakotas preceded that of Washington by two days, was due to the accident of the greater distance of the latter, so that the evidence of the proceedings had not reached the department of state at the same time, gives to the two Dakotas no just title to just priority.

Mr. Vest inquired whether there was anything in the resolution in reference to Montana.

Mr. Hoar—Nothing. I don't understand that senators from the state of Montana are here, or are likely to be here very soon.

Mr. Vest—That is very true; yet I would suggest that provision be made for an event which is very sure to happen, and which we know must happen in reference to a state that is already a member of the union by the president's proclamation. But, of course, that matter can be considered by the committee on privileges and elections.

Mr. Hoar—The senators from the state of Montana will lose nothing by not being included in the resolution.

The resolution was then referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

Resolutions were offered and agreed to fixing the daily hour of meeting at noon, for the appointment of a committee of two to join a like committee on the part of the house to wait on the president and inform him that congress is ready to receive any communication he may choose to make. Messrs. Edmunds and Harris being appointed, and for the continuance of the select committee on transportation and the sale of meat products.

Mr. Aldrich offered a resolution, which was laid over, declaring that the committees on rules in the senate and house jointly select a committee to prepare and report a code of joint rules for conducting business on the part of the two houses.

Mr. Aldrich also offered a resolution, which was also laid over, for the appointment of a select committee of nine senators to be called the quadro-centennial committee, to which shall be referred all matters connected with the proposed celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America.

The senate then, at 12:35, adjourned till tomorrow.

THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The Crowds Kept Back by the Closed Doors—What Was Done.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—The holding of the democratic caucus at 10 o'clock this morning necessitated the closing of the floor of the house and galleries against the general public, who surged through the lower corridors until the pressure became so great that, in order to relieve it, ingress was permitted to halls on the upper floor, and in a short time each closed gallery door was besieged by a crowd of expectant visitors. In the meantime, the caucus was proceeding, in a perfunctory manner, to make nominations for the various elective offices. All the old officers were renominated, with the exception of the chaplain, no nomination being made for that office, although all the democrats will vote for Millburn, the blind chaplain of the last house.

On motion of Mr. Wike, of Illinois, the following resolution was adopted without division:

Resolved, That we, the democratic members of the house of representatives of the fifty-first congress, at the beginning of its first session, hereby send greeting to the people of the country assurances of our continued confidence in and devotion to the principles of tariff reform, as embraced in President Cleveland's message to the last congress upon that subject; and in the platform of principles adopted by the last democratic national convention at St. Louis, and that we hail with delight the emphatic approval of these principles by the people as expressed at the polls in the recent elections, and we pledge them to renew and continue in congress the contest for a reduction of war taxes, so ably begun and prosecuted in former congresses by our representatives and senators.

The subjects next broached were the election of permanent caucus officers, and the attitude of the party towards any proposed modification of house rules, but it was deemed advisable, in order to accommodate the public by opening the galleries, to postpone the determination of those questions, and accordingly, after having been in session for half an hour, the caucus adjourned until tomorrow night.

As the heavy gallery doors swung outward on their hinges there was a wild rush for seats, and in a few moments there was standing room only in wide portals. The executive gallery was alone entirely empty, and the gallery reserved for the diplomatic corps had but few occupants. The picture for which the galleries formed a gigantic and appropriate frame was extremely interesting. On the floor members mingled together, chatting and laughing. Personal animosities seemed forgotten and political differences buried, while jollity and good humor were the order of the day. But the spectator looked in vain for the genial face of Cox, the good natured presence of Townshend, the manly figure of Laird and the studious countenance of Nutting. The places which had known them so long would know them no more forever.

THE HOUSE IN READINESS.

Scenes During Organization—Speaker Reed's Remarks.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—As the hour of noon approached, the noise and confusion increased upon the floor. Visitors who were unable to secure entrance into the galleries, came upon the floor beseeching members to give them orders to various doorkeepers to accomplish the impossible task of obtaining them accommodations. Magnificent floral designs were carried here and there by pages and the odor of roses filled the place. A handsome, unobtrusive basket graced the speaker's desk.

Two desks were necessary to support an immense floral horseshoe and floral chair, each bearing the inscription, "Our Little Giant," sent to Mr. McCarthy, of New York, by his admirers.

Mr. Houk, of Tennessee, was the recipient of a superb floral ship of state.

Before the hour of noon, the executive and diplomatic galleries were filled. As the hands of the clock pointed to the hour of 12, Clerk Clark called the house to order, and proceeded to read the roll of members elect. The roll call showed the presence of 327 members, the three absentees being, O'Neall, of Indiana; Randall, of Pennsylvania, and Whitthorne, of Tennessee.

The clerk stated that he had not received certificates of election from the sixth, ninth and twenty-seventh districts of New York.

More than a quorum having been disclosed, nominations for speake were in order, and Mr. Reed was placed in nomination by Mr. Henderson, of Illinois. The mention of Mr. Reed's name was the signal for applause on the republican side, which was returned with interest by the democrats, when Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, nominated Mr. Carlisle for the honorable position.

Messrs. Cannon, of Illinois, Mills, of Texas, Henderson, of Iowa, and Felix Campbell, were appointed tellers, and the clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The total result: Reed, 166; Carlisle, 154; Cummings, of New York, 1; (Cowles of North Carolina,) and Reed having been declared elected speaker was escorted to the chair by Messrs. McKinley and Carlisle amid applause, and the oath of office was administered by Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania.

The names of Messrs. Turner, Cummings and Payne, from the sixth, ninth and twenty-seventh districts of New York, were not called, their credentials not having been received.

During roll call Mr. O'Neil, of Pennsylvania, stated that his colleague, Mr. Randall, was paired with Mr. Wilber, of New York, and Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, stated that his colleague, Mr. Whitthorne, was detained at home by illness.

Mr. Cummings received a round of applause for his one vote, and had to endure the good-natured bantering of his friends.

On assuming the chair, Speaker Reed said:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives: I thank you for the high office which your voices have bestowed upon me. It would be impossible not to be moved by its dignity and honors. Yet you may well imagine that I am at this moment more impressed by its responsibilities and duties. Under our system of government as it has been developed, these responsibilities and duties are both political and parliamentary. So far as the duties are political, I sincerely hope that they may be performed with a proper sense of what is due to all the people of the whole country. So far as they are parliamentary, I hope, with equal sincerity, that they may be performed with a proper sense of what is due to both sides of the chamber. [Applause.] To the end that I may be successful in carrying out your wishes, I invoke the considerate judgment and cordial aid of all the members of this house. [Long and continued applause.]

The next step in the organization of the house was the swearing in of the members-elect, and as they arranged themselves in squads of twenty at a time in the space in front of the clerk's desk, the oath was administered by the speaker.

This duty having been performed, Mr. Carlisle presented a paper which he said was a certificate of the county court of New York, stating the number of votes cast in the ninth New York district, and for whom they were cast. Although the official credentials had not been received, Mr. Carlisle asked that Mr. Cummings, member-elect from that district, be allowed to qualify.

Mr. Sherman, of New York, made a similar request in behalf of Mr. Payne, member-elect from the twenty-seventh district. Both requests were acceded to, and the gentlemen took the oath of office.

Mr. Henderson, of Illinois, offered a resolution for the election of Edward McPherson as clerk, A. J. Holmes, sergeant-at-arms; C. A. Adams, doorkeeper; James L. Wheat, postmaster, and Rev. Charles B. Ramsdell, chaplain of the house.

Mr. Cheadle, of Indiana, offered an amendment, striking out the name of Charles B. Ramsdell and inserting that of William Milburn.

Mr. Carlisle offered an amendment substituting the names of the present elective officers of the house, with the exception of the chaplain, for the names contained in Mr. Henderson's resolution.

The yeas and nays were demanded on Mr. Cheadle's amendment, but were refused.

On a standing vote the amendment was rejected—129 to 134, but on a vote by tellers this result was reversed and the amendment was adopted—161 to 154.

The republicans then attempted to secure a reconsideration of the vote by which the yeas and nays were refused, but met with defeat—151 to 158. So the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Carlisle's amendment having been defeated on a viva voce vote, Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, demanded a division on Mr. Henderson's resolution, as amended. That portion of the resolution for election of clerk, sergeant at arms, doorkeeper and postmaster was adopted by a viva voce vote.

The vote then recurring on that portion of the resolution which (amended) provides for the election of Rev. W. H. Millturn as chapel, the yeas and nays were ordered.

This portion of the resolution was likewise adopted—yeas 160; nays 165; Cheadle, Lehlbach and Moore, of New Hampshire, voting in the affirmative with the democrats.

The newly elected clerk, doorkeeper, postmaster and chaplain then appeared at the bar of the housse and qualified.

A resolution was adopted directing the clerk to inform the senate that the house had organized and was ready to proceed to business.

Messrs. McKinley, Cannon and Carlisle were appointed a committee to inform the president to the same effect.

Drawing for seats by lots was the next business in order, and a resolution was adopted, the effect of which was to permit ex-Speakers Banks, Randall, Carlisle and Kelley, of Pennsylvania, to select their seats. The drawing having been concluded, the sergeant-at-arms-elect appeared at the bar of the house and qualified.

Mr. Bayne, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution directing the speaker to appoint committees on rules, accounts, enrolled bills and mileage, each to consist of the same number of members as is provided for by the rules of the fiftieth congress. Adopted.

The house then at 4:30 adjourned.

ELECTION BILLS.

Chandler and Sherman Anxious to Get Their Measures Before Congress.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—There were two bills ready for introduction in the senate today, but no opportunity occurred to present them. One of these was the bill proposed by Senator Chandler at the opening of the fiftieth congress, making a regulation prescribing the times, places and manner of holding elections for representatives in congress of the United States within certain states, and the other Senator Sherman's bill introduced in the senate last January, "to make and alter the regulations as to the times, places and manner of holding elections for representatives in congress." Senator Chandler's bill provides for the appointment of supervisors of congressional elections, who shall act as a canvassing board and declare the result; that voters must be registered, and limits the application of the bill to elections for representatives in congress within the states of South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana. Senator Sherman's bill provides for the appointment by the president, to be confirmed by the senate, of a state board of canvassers of five voters and a board of three voters in each congressional district. These boards shall serve during good behavior. The state board shall appoint a registrar of election in each congressional district to serve six years. District boards shall select three citizens in their respective districts, who shall constitute the judges of elections for all federal elections, to serve six years. The district board shall also appoint three commissioners of election for each county (city or corresponding political division) in a congressional district. These commissioners shall canvass the vote. Judges of election shall not all be of one political party. The secretary of the interior shall furnish registration books. The electoral board of each congressional district shall, in the month of April of each year of the general election, certify to the secretary of state the number of election districts and the number of voters in each, and the secretary of state shall thereupon transmit to the board duplicate poll books in each district. These bills will be placed on the calendar by their authors at the earliest practicable moment.

Sales of Leaf Tobacco.

DANVILLE, Va., December 2.—Sales of leaf tobacco at auction at the warehouses in this market during the month of November amounted to 3,826,884 pounds, more than double the sales for November of last year. For the first two months of the present tobacco year the increase of leaf tobacco sold over the same period of last year is 3,175,875 pounds.

A WALL STREET CRASH

THE STOCKS GO TUMBLING MADLY DOWN.

A GENUINE PANIC IN THE AIR

Rich Men Become Poor and Rumors of Failure Fly Abroad—London Comes to the Rescue and the Crisis is Averted.

NEW YORK, November 2.—[Special.]—When Chairman Mitchell rapped his gavel at the stock exchange this morning to denote the opening hour, a scene instantly ensued baffling description. The depression which set in Saturday was renewed with increased violence and desperation. In the first two hours it seemed that a genuine panic was inevitable. All classes of stocks went tumbling at a rate that threatened widespread bankruptcy. The street was soon agog with all sorts of alarming rumors. The names of some of the strongest houses of Wall street were irreverently whispered about by rumor mongers, and one or two banks were said to be on the verge of suspension. The feeling of uneasiness grew more and more intense, until nearly two o'clock, and men on every side wore expressions of countenance that bespoke approaching ruin. London was a heavy buyer of railroad stocks in this market all day, and that support, it is said tonight, averted wholesal disaster, while the so-called trust stocks had least support, and therefore SUFFERED THE GREATEST SHRINKAGE.

They by no means monopolised the decline in values. Even the substantial dividend payers fell off sharply, and looked at one time as though they were going to everlasting ruin. It has been a memorable day, and the damage done to private fortunes is incalculable. Many a man has gone home tonight with aching head, sorrowful heart and sadly depleted purse, who last week was predicting a big bull market in the near future, and counting confidently on a jolly Christmas. Such sudden changes in men's possessions, though common in Wall street, are none the less hard to bear, nor less conducive to suicide. Despite the terrible losses sustained on Saturday and today, there has not yet been a single failure announced. This is simply marvelous. In the general drop the southern stock naturally shared. Tennessee coal and iron, which was 85 the other day, sold down to 66 today. Louisville and Nashville declined below 83 and to 20, the lowest point it has touched for some time. The awful Lynn and Boston fires and Secretary Windom's announcement of his intention to reduce the government deposits now in the national banks, were the main causes of the trouble in Wall street. When the market closed, however, everything was materially better, and the feeling here at the Windsor hotel tonight is more hopeful. The general opinion is that the worst is over, though everybody agrees that a general panic was at one time today dangerously near at hand, and was only escaped through the heavy buying for London account. M. J. V.

CLEVELAND AND GRADY.

They Will Both Speak in Boston at a Banquet.

BOSTON, December 2.—The Boston Merchants' association announces the acceptance of an invitation to speak at its annual banquet at the Hotel Vendome on December 21st by ex-President Cleveland. Other distinguished gentlemen have promised to speak, including Henry W. Grady, of Atlanta, Ga., who will discuss the race problem in America, and Andrew Carnegie, who will speak on the world's commerce. It is also hoped that Hon. Chauncey M. Depew will be present.

IN VERY GOOD HUMOR.

Even If They Do Fall Out Over the Oyster Grounds.

BALTIMORE, December 2.—By the advice of Attorney General White, Governor Jackson today decided to temporarily withdraw his proclamation throwing open the oyster dredging grounds on Hog island flats to dredgers of both states. This is done to give the Virginia legislature time to rescind its contract with Lewis, to whom it gave authority for the private use of the flats, although the survey plainly shows they are common ground. Governor Lee, of Virginia, today telegraphed Governor Jackson as follows:

"Come down and dine with me. Over an oyster stew, we can discuss this question as the governors of North and South Carolina used to do."

GORDON IN CHICAGO.

The Governor Tendered a Reception at the Palmer House.

CHICAGO, December 2.—Governor Gordon, of Georgia, was given a popular reception to night at the Palmer house. Fully two thousand citizens shook hands with him in the course of a little over an hour. At Governor Gordon's right hand stood N. K. Fairbanks, and on the left General Crook. Among the prominent men who came to meet the governor were Judge Walter Q. Gresham, P. E. Studebaker, and ex-Senator Lyman Trumbull.

MR. DAVIS'S CONDITION.

He Is Thought to Be a Little Better This Morning.

NEW ORLEANS, December 2.—If there is any change in Mr. Davis's condition it is for the better. The patient's extreme weakness makes it a matter of difficulty for his physician to give any decided opinion. Mr. Davis fails to take sufficient nourishment to strengthen him.

Death of Major Rogers.

LEXINGTON, Va., December 2.—Major John D. Rogers, solicitor of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, son of General Asa Rogers, ex-auditor of Virginia; a relative of General R. E. Lee; chief quartermaster of General D. H. Hill's division of the Army of Northern Virginia, C. S. A., died Sunday from injuries received in a railroad collision at Scottsville, on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, in August last. He was buried in the Lee Memorial Episcopal church today.

In Favor of High License.

CHARLESTON, S. C., December 2.—[Special.] The ministerial union, of this city, held a meeting today and adopted a resolution petitioning the legislature for the passage of the high license bill, now before that body. The memorial is signed by fourteen clergymen, distributed as to demominations as follows: Methodist, four; Presbyterian, five; Episcopal, Huguenot, Baptist, Reformed Episcopal and Congregational, one each, and was at once forwarded to Columbia.

An Editor's Son Elopes.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., December 2.—[Special.] Mr. Ewing Watterson, a son of Hon. Henry Watterson, and Miss Jennie Black, a daughter of Dr. Thomas Black, eloped Saturday from McMinnville and drove twenty-five miles to Smithville where they were married at midnight, at the residence of the bride's uncle, Alex Black. They returned to McMinnville yesterday, and left this afternoon for Louisville.

A Philadelphia Firm in Trouble.

PHILADELPHIA, December 2.—Judgments with executions were entered this morning in common pleas court against the firm of Lewis S. Cox & Co., retail dry goods, ladies' suitings, etc., 1220 Chestnut street, and Lewis S. Cox individually, for $185,000 on a judgment note dated December 2, 1889, payable on demand to George Vietor, of New York, trustee for a number of creditors. No deed of assignment yet.

VICTORY PREDICTED

For the Liberals in the Next Election in Great Britain.

LONDON, December 2.—The meetings of the liberal federation began at Manchester. Mr. Gladstone was present and made an address in Free Trade hall. In the course of his address he said that the local government bill did not meet the legitimate demands of the country. He advocated granting to county councils the powers of taxation, the control of the police and the liquor traffic, the care of the poor, power to deal with the question of ground rents and to form district councils, and he would possibly go further and establish the parish principle of government, and thus convey to the rural population the first elements of their public education and create a sense of public duty, which is the HIGHEST AIM OF THE STATESMAN.

Mr. Gladstone said that since 1885 there had been an enormous stimulous to the public mind in regard to dwellings for the poor, enfranchisement, leasehold, crofter legislation, shorter parliaments, the disestablisment of the church in Scotland and Wales, currency and the house of lords. Provisions for direct Scottish and Welsh home rule, Mr. Gladstone said, must be dealt with by future parliaments. He referred to his approaching eightieth birthday, and said it was not probable that he should have a direct interest in many features of great reform. When the idea of revolution, especially should become more familiar parliament would be able to address itself to the discharge of its duties and would be relieved of an intolerable burden. The state of affairs in the Turkish empire, Mr. Gladstone said, is again before the English people. The transactions in Crete and Armenia are dissatisfying and incidents have occurred which require to be brought home to the consciences of the British people. It was difficult to deal with Turkey. He trusted that the government would not use honeyed words in matters involving property, liberty, life and female honor. The country would not admit apologies and palliations for cruelties and wickedness. Mr. Gladstone predicted a liberal victory at the next election for members of parliament. He advocated an amendment to the registration laws removing the anomaly of a plurality of votes and the establishment of a system of one vote for one man.

PLUNKETT GETS A DIVORCE.

His Wife a Devotee of Christian Science, But Went Too Far.

NEW YORK, December 2.—Case of Plunkett vs. Plunkett was brought to a close today. Plaintiff, John A. Plunkett, securing in supreme court a decree of divorce from his wife, Mary H. The latter, it will be remembered, was a devotee of the Christian science doctrine, and on May 8th last united herself with A. Bentley Worthington by a peculiar ceremony, declaring to her friends that she had taken to herself as a husband "the one who had in all the past eternities been such because God made him so."

STARVED TO DEATH.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. December 2.—Mrs. James Lythe, wife of a wealthy farmer of Livingston county, died at her home there yesterday from lack of medical attention. Mrs. Lythe was a believer in Christian science and relied for recovery upon the faith cure. Her sister, Mrs. White, a wealthy widow, is dying, and she, too, will allow no physicians to see her, trusting, like her sister, to the faith cure. Both of the ladies belonged to the holiness settlement here, the leaders of which attended them during their illness. "The holiness doctors" will be prosecuted for malpractice.

LOST IN THE FLAMES.

A Philadelphia Bakery Destroyed, and Several Persons Lose Their Lives.

PHILADELPHIA, December 2.—The bakery of Gustav Gross, on the corner of Second and Huntingdon streets, was totally destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock this morning. Mr. Gross escaped from the flames half dressed, but his wife and two children were burned to death. Their bodies have been found in the ruins. Another family, consisting of a man (name not yet learned) and his wife and child, occupied the rear portion of the house, and were rescued with difficulty by firemen on ladders. They were removed to the Episcopal hospital, and are said to be in a precarious condition.

The total casualties are: Deaths, Mrs. Annie Bitner and three children, and two small sons of Baker Gross. Severely burned, Mrs. Gross and one child, Joseph Bitner and John Ellanson. Mrs. Gross will die. The money loss was trifling.

A CRAZY MAN'S FREAK.

He Cuts Off His Son's Head and Slashes Around Generally.

GALLATIN, Mo., December 2.—With one sweep of a large sharp butcher knife, John Bright, on Saturday, almost decapitated his son, Albert, at their home near this city. He then made an attack on his wife, who escaped and locked herself in a room. With maniacal rage the murderer rushed from the house and attempted to kill John Burk, a farm hand, who saved his life by flight. Bright then started to town, saying there were several of his enemies there and he would get even with them. An alarm was given and he was stopped by the marshal, but instead of giving himself up he made an attack on the officer with his knife and cut him badly in the arm. He then made a dash through the streets and chased everybody that came in sight. He was shot, as he was chasing a lot of children, and so badly wounded that he was captured.

A River of Beer.

NEWARK, N. J., December 2.—An explosion in the large brewery of Charles Tefs damaged the establishment to the extent of more than $100,000 and caused consternation throughout the neighborhood. Simultaneously with the explosion, floods of beer gushed from the rear windows and poured down Beacon street toward South Orange avenue and across Rankin street to the houses below. The atmosphere in the vicinity was impregnated with ammonia.

THURMAN'S DAUGHTER

SEEMS TO BE OF A FESTIVE DISPOSITION.

THE STORY OF A SAN DIEGO WEDDING

In Which a Divorced Daughter of Ex-Senator Thurman Plays a Curious Part—An All Night Banquet.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., December 2.—[Special.]—Miss Marie P. Thurman was married Saturday night to Mr. Thomas S. Gifford, and Sunday everybody in town was talking about the wedding. The bride is the daughter of Judge Allen G. Thurman, and figured conspicuously last week in a divorce case, in which a decree was issued in the San Diego superior court, severing the bonds which united her with Lieutenant W. S. Cowles, of the United States navy, now commander of the Dispatch. It is said that she had been engaged to Gifford for several months. Gifford is several years her junior, and is agent at Tia Juana for Aguerre & Dowell, the Mexican bankers. He is Spanish born but of English parents.

DIFFICULTY IN GETTING MARRIED.

The couple had some difficulty in getting married. They announced to the friends whom they had invited to a banquet to take place at 9 o'clock Saturday night, that at that time they would have been married three hours. It was their intention to have Father Ubach, of St. Joseph's Catholic church, join them in matrimony, but when they went to the church at 6 o'clock, the father told them it would be impossible for him to perform the ceremony, as the rules of the Catholic church prohibited the marriage of a person who had been divorced. The couple were crestfallen, but soon recovered their spirits, and, bidding Father Ubach good-by, went to a hotel with a few Mexican friends and sent a message for a Protestant minister. A reply was received from him stating that he could not come, so the couple got into a hack, drove through the drenching rain to the residence of the Rev. Harper, of the Baptist church, who performed the ceremony. They then returned to the hotel, where

THE BANQUET WAS SERVED.

There were twenty-two guests present, Mexicans predominating. Only three women were present including the bride and the sister of her former husband, Lieutenant Cowles. There were eight nationalities represented, and present among the guests were Mexican Consul Valdespino and Inspector of Mexican Colonies Miguel Miramon. The festivities continued till near 4 o'clock Sunday morning, and all the guests, including the bride and bridegroom, were in the best of spirits. The twenty two guests were served with claret or white wine between every course, and drank thirty-two quart bottle of champagne. Mexican cigarettes were a feature of the festivities, in which the bride indulged with her sister-in-law, and which she seemed to enjoy. Miss Thurman, or Mrs. Cowles, was reported here to have been worth a good deal of money, while Gifford is a clerk making only a fair salary. They met for the first time about three months ago at the Juana Hot Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Gifford will live in the bride's cottageon Fifteenth street, for the present. The late Miss Thurman became enraged at her attorney because the news of her divorce got into the press, and she refused to pay him his fee. Legal proceedings to collect the same were instituted on her wedding day.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Hold Their Last Meeting Before the Municipal Election.

The city executive committee held an important meeting last night.

It was their last chance to do anything with municipal election.

The discussion showed an easy feeling of confidence in the success of the ticket as a whole, and at the same time an earnest interest in securing a full vote.

The committee had some practical advice for election day. The following is furnished by Secretary Stockdell:

"On motion, the full committee of one hundred, which recommended the ticket, and which was ratified at the mass meeting, be earnestly requested and urged to be present at the polls on election day and aid in the election of the entire ticket, and that also the candidates be present throughout the day at their respective voting places and with their friends use their best endeavors to elect the ticket. We believe that if the friends of good government and this ticket will come out in full strength, there will be no trouble nor doubt about the result.

Voting places are as follows:

First ward—Broad and Mitchell.
Second ward—Chamber of commerce.
Third ward—Hunter and Butler.
Fourth ward—Decatur and Moore.
Fifth ward—Marietta and Walton.
Sixth ward—19 South Pryor.

The Independent Organized.

The election of the full ticket tomorrow means the perpetuation of the citizens' mass meetings forever.

Then let every voter turn out.

There is opposition to the ticket in the fourth ward only. But that opposition has a thorough organization. On the last day of the registration carriages were used by the supporters of the bolters to haul their friends to the place of registration. A complete organization has been secured and a fund raised for the work. In each ward the party will have its workers and they will work hard to put the independent in. Every registered voter should turn out and work and vote for the full ticket. In voting, too, it would be wise to examine the ticket carefully.

Captain Grier's Funeral.

The funeral of Captain A. G. Grier occurred at the residence on Forsyth street yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Barrett, assisted by Rev. T. P. Cleveland, chaplain of the Confederate Veterans association, officiated, and the service was most beautifully rendered.

An escort of veterans, consisting of Mr. John Gramling, Dr. Charles d'Alvigny, Mr. W. P. Mitchell, Mr. George Winship, Captain B. N. Willifend, Captain J. W. English, Captain W. A. Powell, Mr. H. Y. Snow, Mr. A. Leyden, Mr. S. B. Love, Captain James A. Loyd, and Hon. John Tyler Cooper had been appointed to escort the remains to their last resting place, and they formed a solemn procession as they accompanied their honored comrade to the tomb.

The pallbearers were Judge W. L. Calhoun, Mr. E. Rich, Mr. Thomas Langston, Captain William A. Powell, Captain James R. Wylie, Mr. A. J. Lyle, Mr. Antonie Kontz and Captain W. W. Boyd.

A long procession attended the remains to Oakland cemetery, where they were laid to rest with proper ceremonies.

Mr. James B. Dunson's Death.

Mr. James B. Dunson, of LaGrange, died yesterday morning at No. 83 Marietta street.

Mr. Dunson was a young merchant of LaGrange, about thirty years of age, and had been here for some time under treatment of Dr. Westmoreland, who performed an operation on him Monday. He seemed to be doing very well up to Saturday, when he grew worse until his death.

Mr. Dunson's three brothers, one of whom is in business in this city, the others being from LaGrange, left on the Atlanta and West Point road for LaGrange last evening, carrying with them the remains of their brother. The funeral will occur there today. Mr. Dunson had no family.

A Lady's Death.

Mrs. Charles Christunsen died at her residence, No. 17 McDonald street yesterday morning. Her death was caused by consumption, with which she had been afflicted for some time.

She leaves a grief stricken husband and one little child to mourn the loss of a loving wife and kind mother. The funeral will occur at one o'clock today, and the interment will occur at Westview.

Live Oak Trees.—The East Atlanta Land company has just received two hundred live oak trees, which will be planted along the streets at Inman park. Inman park is a very attractive place, which is being continually beautified.

THE CONFERENCE.

THE CHARACTERS OF THE PREACHERS PASSED.

The Ordination of Elders and Deacons—The Election of Trustees for the Wesleyan Advocate.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—The conference met at 9 a. m. with Bishop J. C. Keener in the chair.

S. D. Clements was referred to the committee for a supernumerary relation.

Question 7 was called: "Who are the deacons of one year?" when the following cases were acted upon: William B. Austin, Joseph A. Sewell, M. D. Smith, E. R. Cook, W. C. Fox, C. E. Pattillo, J. E. Rosser, G. W. Griver, H. M. Strezier, Simeon Shaw, J. B. Holland, H. W. Morris.

A. C. Cantrell was located at his own request.

Question 20 was called: "Are all the preachers blameless in their life and official administration?" when the preachers in the Athens, North and South Atlanta, Augusta, Dalton, Dahlonega and all the other districts were examined, their reports read and their characters passed.

TRUSTEES FOR THE ADVOCATE.

At 10 o'clock the order of the day was taken up, it being the election of six trustees for the Wesleyan Advocate. The bishop appointed J. R. King, and J. M. White as tellers.

On motion, the tellers and secretary were allowed to withdraw and count the ballot.

The letter of A. G. Wardlaw, of Atlanta, announcing his withdrawal from the Methodist church was read.

The tellers and secretary reported that there was no election upon the first ballot.

Resolved, That we will heartily co-operate with the agent of the Woman's Board of Missions for the establishment of the bible and training school for christian workers:

W. H. POTTER,
W. D. ANDERSON,
W. A. CANDLER,
H. C. MORRISON.

The following places were nominated as the place of holding the next conference: Rome, Athens, Washington; and Washington was unanimously selected.

The following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, Dr. A. G. Haygood, for nigh thirty years one of our most valued and useful members, has transferred to the North Alabama conference; therefore,

Resolved, That this conference recognize with real gratitude the distinguished services he has rendered to church and state, and feels deeply the loss of his presence and counsel.

Resolved secondly, That the love and prayers of this body should follow him to his new field of labor, and when he feels disposed to return to us we will be glad to welcome him to his old home with open arms.

The following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, Rev. J. W. Heidt, D. D., has returned to us from Texas to take his place again among us as one of our workers; therefore,

Resolved, That we most gladly welcome back our old conference, and hope his stay among us may be long and useful.

SUNDAY'S SERVICES.

Bishop Keener preached to an immense congregation on Sunday morning on "The Personality and Work of the Holy Ghost." His text was John xvi, 8-11. At the close of the sermon the following traveling preachers were ordained deacons: W. B. Dillard, Ford McRee, Charles C. Fleming, W. S. Stevens, W. L. Singleton, B. H. Trammell, W. F. Colley, J. M. Owens, C. M. Verdel. He also ordained as local deacons R. F. Eakes, J. A. Quillian, W. J. Jennings, Jacob P. Neese, B. H. Green, G. W. Anderson, W. C. Thornburg.

Rev. W. D. Anderson preached at 11 a. m. at the public school building. His text was Matthew xi, 6: "Blessed is he whosoever is not offended in me."

At 3 p. m. the bishop ordained the following traveling preachers as elders: W. T. Irvine, A. Lester, J. S. L. Lafington, H. M. Smith, John M. Sewell, Edwin M. Wright and Freeman R. Smith. Also, the following local elders: G. W. Farr, M. T. Burtz, John L. Askew, A. F. Norton, J. Lave Ware.

At the close the committee on memoirs read memoirs on the seven comrades who have fallen at their posts of duty during the year. Those are old Uncle Claiborne Trussel, Benjamin F. Farris, A. T. Mann, D. D., George E. Bonner, A. M. Thigpen, D. D. Cox, and George E. Gardner, who was the pastor of the Cedartown church.

In the afternoon at the public school building Sam Jones preached to an immense crowd.

At 7 p. m. the missionary anniversary was held, and the report of the secretary showed thirty-one missions in the conference; eleven have become self-sustaining, and thirteen new ones have been organized. The report of the treasurer showed that the amounts were behind those of last year. A digest of the report shows the following items of interest: The total for the home missions, $7,600; the total for foreign missions, $16,165; for Woman's society, $5,856; for self-denial fund, $285, making a total for missions in this conference of $29,906, or with the amount for the Japan mission, raised by W. W. Wadsworth, of $30,000.

THE DELEGATES

to the general conference from the preachers is considered an exceedingly able one. I give them in the order of their election: W. D. Anderson, W. A. Candler, W. P. Lovejoy, H. C. Morrison, W. F. Glenn, W. H. Potter, W. W. Wadsworth and H. H. Parks. The clerical alternates are H. J. Adams, J. S. Hopkins and J. W. Lee.

The lay delegates were J. S. Candler, R. M McIntosh, H. P. Bell, W. W. Turner, J. A. Peek, J. W. Quillian, B. B. Crew and L. H O'Martin. The alternates were J. S. Stewart, J. B. Hill and J. B. Hunnicutt.

There were some fifty preachers voted for and some of them run very high, and would have done great credit to the conference. Dr. W. F. Cook, J. B. Robins, J. H. Baxter, T. F. Pierce, R. W. Bigham, J. T. Gibson, A. J. Jarrell and J. F. Mixon were mentioned among many others.

The Same Pistol in Both Cases.

SOCIAL CIRCLE, Ga., December 2.—[Special.] Mr. Mobley, an industrious blacksmith of this place, who had been drinking heavily, shot himself last Sunday, the ball taking effect on the right side of his head. Against the advice of his physician and remonstrance of friends he went to his shop and worked all day Monday, not forgetting the whisky bottle. This brought him to his bed and paralysis set in and last night he died. His son was killed about a month ago with the same pistol.

Death of Mr. B. S. Bennett.

WAYCROSS, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—A private telegram, received here from Jesup, announces the death of B. S. Bennett of this city, a member of the large firm of A. R. & B. S. Bennett. He was a young man of sterling qualities, and was loved by all. Mr. Bennett was a member of the Masonic order and Knights of Pythias, also a member of the Waycross Rifles. His death cast a gloom over our entire community.

The Constitution in Valdosta.

VALDOSTA, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—The citizens of Valdosta, with broad and satisfied smiles, are tonight reading THE CONSTITUTION of Monday, December 2, for the first time since THE CONSTITUTION has been a paper. It was today delivered by United States mail on the same day it was published, nearly three hundred miles away. The Georgia Southern and Florida now brings in the northern mail at 4:23 p. m., and everybody is happy.

Burning of the Depot at Cobb's Station.

AMERICUS, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—The new depot of the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery road, at Cobb's station, was destroyed, together with all its contents, by fire last night, entailing a considerable loss. The work was undoubtedly that of an incendiary. A detective was sent down today to work up the case, and if possible catch the fire-bug.

Brunswick's Municipal Campaign.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—The situation in municipal politics here is decidedly mixed. Yesterday there were two candidates for mayor—J. J. Spears and J. P. Harvy—and seven for aldermen. Today it is understood that Harvy is out of the race. Efforts are being made tonight to induce Judge A. J. Crovatt to run.

Electric Lights in Americus.

AMERICUS, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Americus is lighted by electricity tonight for the first time, and the city is jubilant in consequence. Forty arc lights of twelve hundred and fifty candle power each are burning, and these together with the two hundred gaslights, brilliantly illumine the entire city.

BRUNSWICK IS ANGRY

WITH THE ACTION OF SAVANNAH TOUCHING DEVEAUX.

The Savannah News is Scored by the Brunswick Times for an Editorial in Its Sunday Issue.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—here is great indignation here on account of the part played by Savannah citizens and the Savannah Morning News in the appointment of John H. Deveaux, the negro, as collector of this port.

It seems that Deveaux was indorsed by the leading citizens of Savannah as fit for any office outside of Savannah. An editorial in Sunday's News, however, is the special cause of indignation.

THE TIMES TALKS.

The Times, which voices the sentiment here, will say tomorrow:

It may be that the people of Brunswick have lost all their self respect, and may be they have not. If they have they will continue to patronize the Savannah News. If they haven't they will confine their patronage to home publications, or if, finding that they need supplements to these, they will subscribe for the newspapers published at Atlanta, Charleston and Jacksonville. Everybody in Brunswick is aware of the fact that John Deveaux, a negro citizen of Savannah, has been appointed collector of the port of Brunswick, but everybody in Brunswick is not aware of the fact that this man was indorsed as "fit for any office" by the mayor and council of Savannah, and by leading corporations and citizens of that place without regard to party. He was indorsed thus, be it known, not as an applicant for office in Savannah. Oh, no, he was indorsed thus as an applicant for office in Brunswick. Savannah wanted only white officeholders, and negro officeholders, however, were good enough for Brunswick. The Times understands that there are good people in Savannah who do not countenance

THE DIRTY METHODS

by which Deveaux was prevented from obtaining office in that city, and for these the Times has respect, but the Times has nothing but contempt for those citizens of Savannah who have not only aided to foist Deveaux upon this port, but who have maliciously falsified the position of the people of this city. The Savannah Morning News, however, has been in the lead, and is still in that position in all the outrageous misrepresentations which have lead to Deveaux's appointment. In its Sunday issue the Morning News not only gloats over the appointment of a negro as collector of this port, but it virtually indorses Deveaux, and then charges two of the best citizens of Brunswick with having voted for an incompetent negro for representative of this district in congress. Colonel C. P. Goodyear and Mr. C. Downing are republicans, but they are not partisans. Neither has taken any part in politics in years past, except to vote. Neither cast his ballot for the negro Snelson, not because he was a negro, but because they knew him to be unfit for the high office of congressman. The attempt of the Morning News to place them in an inconsistent attitude is mean in the extreme. The truth is the Morning News, which seeks the business of the people of Brunswick, has always given to this city. Hon. J. E. Dort is a competent witness to the truth of this charge. The Morning News' editorial of Sunday is convincing of it. There are no democrats in Brunswick who want Deveaux as collector, and it is equally true that there is not a single white republican here who wants him. These are the facts. The Morning News to the contrary notwithstanding. Deveaux is a non resident, and there are competent white men here who are better able to conserve the best interests of Brunswick. In the meantime, the appointment has been made Deveaux is the collector. With no thanks to the Morning News and others of that ilk, the people of Brunswick will see to it that the Savannah colored citizen has the opportunity to discharge his duties in peace.

THE BACK OF ITS HAND

THE FINANCES OF GRIFFIN.

Charges Brought Against the Chairman of the Street Committee.

GRIFFIN, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Something of a sensation was created in this city yesterday (Sunday) when the News and Sun made its appearance containing an article reflecting on the official career of Alderman Henry C. Burr. The writer, who signs himself Griffin, charges in substance that Mr. Burr, as chairman of the finance committee, has levied a tax less than was adequate to defray the city's expenses, and in consequence was reaping a rich reward by discounting the city's servants' wages ten per cent for at least four months in each year. Mr. Burr was asked about the matter this afternoon, and unhesitatingly pronounced the charge as absolutely false in every particuler. Said he:

"If that article is true, and I am as stated solely responsible, what is the use of the other members of council. Why not let one man run the whole city government and stop the salaries of the others."

It is evidently apparent that Mr. Burr's position on this is correct, but in the opinion of many, he alone is not responsible for the deficit. It is simply a miscalculation that the whole council will see is not probable in the future.

BURNED IN EFFIGY.

The Citizens of Ringgold Play Havoc With an Editor.

DALTON, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Will Murdock, the associated editor of the Catoosa Courier, was burned in effigy on the streets of Ringgold, Ga. yesterday, on account of an article in his paper reflecting on the people of the town.

He was badly beaten in an indignation meeting held by citizens of the place on Thanksgiving day. R. M. Morris, the editor of the paper, has not been seen since the article in question appeared, and it is reported that he has fled, through fears of violence at the hands of the citizens.

The Court of Ordinary.

MACON, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Judge Wiley's court did the following business: Letters of dismission were granted to W. J. Davis, administrator on the estate of Henry G. Davis; application was made by Mrs. Nannie Gean for letters of guardianship for Alberta Josey Gean; application was made by J. T. Knight for letters of administration on the estate of J. W. Kimball; objections were filed by Mrs. E. S. Kimbrew to the appointment of H. G. Kimbrew as administrator of the estate of E. S. Kimbrew; appraisers made report as to the setting aside of twelve months support for Mrs. J. M. Davis, and citation was ordered; an order was passed allowing Mrs. Etta Clark, administratrix of the estate of Henry W. Daniel, to sell real estate.

Colonel Gantt's New Paper.

ATHENS, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—The Athens Banner, under its consolidated management, makes its first appearance tomorrow. All the week the preparation has been going on, cleaning up the office and getting in good shape for the first issue. The outlook for the new paper is a bright one, and it will undoubtedly succeed. It will be a seven-column four-page paper, brimful of news, and will in a short time be increased to eight pages. Colonel Larry Gantt looked at home today as he started the editorial column of the new paper. Mr. C. D. Flanigen is doing good work as business manager.

Shot in the Head.

GRIFFIN, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Information was received this afternoon that a darkey had been killed accidentally while hunting near the city, on J. A. Brooks's plantation. Investigation developed the fact that Mose Freeman went to the house of another negro to borrow a dog. The little son of the owner of the dog wanted to go with the crowd hunting, which he did to the dissatisfaction of Mose. After an hour's hunt the dogs started a rabbit, and in attempting to shoot it Freeman accidentally shot the boy in the back, the whole load taking effect in the back of the head of Henry Kinnely.

A Tale Tersely Told.

MONROE, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—At a negro party near here Saturday night, the lights were blown out and a general battle ensued. Result: four shot, three cut. Two are said to be fatally hurt. There was no cause for the fuss except liquor.

The Tickets Badly Scratched.

ALBANY, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Quite an exciting municipal election was held here today. 363 votes out of a registration of 417 was cast. T. N. Woolfolk was elected mayor without opposition. The aldermen are in doubt, the ticket being badly scratched.

A Pleasing Sense

Of health and strength renewed and of ease and comfort follows the use of Syrup of Figs, as it acts in harmony with nature to effectually cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

THE FIREMEN OUT.

AN IMPENDING STRIKE AMONG THE CENTRAL EMPLOYES.

The Brakesmen Called Off, Which Angers the Firemen and They Refuse to Go Out With Their Engines.

MACON, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—The firemen of the Southwestern railroad division have been in considerable stir today and tonight, amounting practically to a strike. The police were called into requisition tonight, as serious trouble was apprehended. The cause of the difficulty was due to an order issued by Superintendent Starr withdrawing all the helpers from the firemen, to take effect December first. Hitherto, the front brakeman has been allowed to go on the tender and pile up wood and hand it to the fireman to put into the furnace of the engine. Superintendent Starr claims that by reason of this the brakeman or fireman being on the tender assisting the fireman, instead of on the train, several accidents have happened. Hence, his order withdrawing the fireman's helper. The firemen claim that one fireman, without help, can't fire and keep the engine hot, so as to make the schedule.

ON THE LONG RUNS

on the Southwestern it is a physical impossibility. For instance, a freight train leaving Macon at 11 o'clock this morning, reaches Montgomery at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning. The firemen are willing alone to fire the coal burners, but not the wood burners. The first trouble commenced this morning at 11 o'clock, when Fireman Allen Chandler refused to leave on the Montgomery freight. Sixteen firemen, one after another, refused to go on the freights without helpers. Engineer Aaron Aller refused to run with a negro fireman that the officials furnished him. His train finally got off with an imported white fireman.

Tonight the firemen collected around the four outgoing freight trains, and refused to allow substitutes to get on. Engineer Wyly started his train with a negro fireman, and the white firemen mounted the engine and took him off. The services of the chief of police and a number of patrolmen were called into requisition. The police had to board the train and stand to protect him in firing the engine out of the yard. Matters got too warm for the negro, however, and he jumped off the engine and ran away. Another was obtained, and the train again started out of the yard, under protection of the police, at a late hour, but it was hinted around that when the police got off the engine at the city limits the firemen would board the train a mile or so down the road and take the fireman off. The firemen seem determined. Superintendent Starr was out of the city all day. He arrived in Macon late tonight, and will hold a conference with the firemen in the morning. If matters are not promptly adjusted, there may be a serious freight blockade for several days.

DALY WHIPS THE RAILROAD.

Judge Boynton Grants the Injunctions Against the Georgia Southern.

MACON, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Georgia Southern railway officials are not feeling so very elated today by the news that comes from Judge Boynton, at Griffin. He grants the Harvey and Donahue injunctions brought by Attorney F. J. M. Daly against the road. By this decision the road is enjoined from obstructing with houses or buildings of any sort the alley that runs through the yard of the railroad, from Fifth street to Mrs. Harvey's store on Fourth street, between Plum and Pine streets. No objection was made by Mrs. Harvey to the road laying tracks across the alley, with suitable crossings. Judge Boynton, also holds that the road can't lay its track down Fifth and Elbert streets in front of the Donahue property without first paying damages.

The result is considered as quite a victory for Colonel Daly, as he has been strongly and ably fought at every point.

EDITOR STANTON NEVER DREAMED

That It was Possible for Smithville to Become a Railroad Center.

MACON, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Macon may lose the headquarters of the superintendent of the Southwestern railroad, where they have been ever since the road was built. General Manager Gabbett thinks of removing the headquarters to Smithville, in order that the superintendent may be more centrally located for his division. It was on this idea of central location that General Manager Gabbett recently removed the office of Superintendent Hege, of the main stem from Savannah to Macon. General Manager Gabbott and Superintendent W. W. Starr, of the Southwestern, have been to Smithville to look after a site on which to erect the superintendent's offices should it be finally decided to remove the headquarters there.

GONE TO A CONVENT.

A Well Known Macon Young Lady Enters the Sacred Heart.

MACON, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—Miss Emma Ross, daughter of the late Colonel B. F. Ross, a young lady well known in this city, and who has large family connections, left this morning for New Orleans to enter the convent of the Sacred Heart. Miss Ross joined St. Joseph's Catholic church in Macon a few months ago. Her immediate family are Methodists. Miss Ross seems very devoted to the Catholic faith. She has about ten thousand dollars in her own right, and, it is reported, she will give this to the church. She is about twenty-seven years old, fine looking, and well educated. Her father was formerly one of Macon's wealthiest and most highly esteemed citizens.

Short Notes from Macon.

MACON, Ga., December 2.—[Special.]—The three following Western Union telegraph operators, who have always taken pleasure in serving THE CONSTITUTION, have made the following changes: Mr. T. C. Grove has returned from Savannah and is now press operator, vice Mr. A. B. Kennedy, who succeeds Mr. V. W. Johnson as night chief.

The grand Catholic fair commenced tonight. It promises to be a great success during the entire holding.

Today Officer Bonner arrested a negro supposed to be Will Slaughter, who escaped from the Lowe convict camp in 1884.

HORRIBLY MANGLED.

A TRAIN HAND KNOCKED OFF BY JONES AVENUE BRIDGE.

Another Victim of Low Railroad Bridges Crushed Beneath the Wheels of a Georgia Pacific Freight Train.

Will Hamby, a negro train hand, was horribly mangled at Jones avenue bridge yesterday

Freight train No. 68, on the Georgia Pacific road, pulled out at 7:10 and passed under the bridge at the usual rate of speed. There was no bolt, no unusual jolt or noise of any sort, and nobody had any idea that there was any trouble.

A few minutes after the train had passed, a Western and Atlantic railroad man was walking along the track, when he noticed a dark form lying between the tracks.

He held his lantern down and found that it was a dead man.

And a ghastly sight it was!

CUT HALF IN TWO.

It was a negro, lying with his feet toward the bridge.

From his feet to his chest the body was lying with the back upward. The upper portion was face upward, as though the man had been cut in two.

Death had been instantaneous.

Mr. Will Owens, of the Western and Atlantic, arrived a short time afterward, and found the dead man's hat a few yards nearer the bridge. A glance at the bridge was enough to indicate what had been the cause.

There is an arm of the framework of the bridge, a sort of brace, that extends diagonally over the track, and from all appearances, the negro's head must have come in contact with this.

He fell on the left hand rail, and was dragged a distance of ten or fifteen feet, as the iron wheel ground the life out of his body.

A SICKENING SIGHT.

As the wheels released their victim, the body was flung from the rail, falling in the posture in which it was found by the railroad hands.

Hamby had been in the employ of the road for a good long time, and was a good railroader.

He was working the brakes on No. 68 when he met his death. No one seemed to know much about his home, but it is supposed that he lived in Atlanta. He appeared to be about thirty or thirty-five years of age.

AT THE THEATER.

No actor has received at the hands of an Atlanta audience in years such an ovation as that tendered Frederick Warde last night. The play was "The Mountebank," and as the story progressed, bringing out the great strength of the star, there was applause upon applause, call upon call, until, at the end of the third act, Mr. Warde was compelled to pay his acknowledgments in a short speech—which he did most gracefully.

There is no young actor on the American stage more deserving of success than this same Fred Warde. For years now he has been fighting his way along the path he had marked out for himself—fighting it unflinchingly sometimes against very great obstacles; the goal has been fame as a tragedian. How he has reached it, those who have watched year after year his many successes, will bear willingly testimony. He is, today, clearly the best actor of the robust school which the American stage knows.

It is the story of a traveling mountebank who has married, all unbeknown to himself and to her, a daughter of the nobility. De Rollac, who wants the woman, learns who she is, and after making several efforts to induce the mountebank to give her up, succeeds in making her leave him on the pretense that in that way alone can she save the life of her little daughter, who is desperately ill. The husband and father has gone with his last shilling to purchase a shawl for the wife and some playthings for the sick baby. He returns with his boy only to find the home deserted. This is one of the strongest scenes of a play which abounds in strange scenes. The boy in his rage starts to curse his mother. The vesper bell in the distance prompts the father to stop his son and make him kneel instead to prayer for his mother and him.

Belphegar's pilgrimage then begins. From house to house he goes, searching everywhere for his wife and child. He is tattered and torn. He finds himself in a palace where a masquerade ball was in progress, and there he discovers De Rollac. The meeting between the men is most dramatic. Belpheagar denounces him as a noted criminal and then allows him to escape. From then Belphegor assumes the role of DeRollac, and succeeds in securing an entrance into the palace where his wife is. They are brought face to face. The bogus DeRollac relates in terms of most intense earnestness the story of the mountebank's life since his wife has deserted him. There are other complications, and then Belphegar proclaims himself the Mountebank and demands his wife. Complications crowd in at the last, but the play ends happily with the reunion of father, mother and children.

So much for the play; now for the players. As the "Mountebank," Mr. Warde was all that fancy could picture the role. The airy grace of the comedy scenes was only excelled by the earnest force in those which called for the display of the most intense emotions. To say that he was perfection itself is but to echo the sentiments of the people who made up the big audience which greeted him last night.

Of the supporting company, Mr. Rand, Mr. Clarke and Mr. Clement deserve especial mention. Mr. Clarke was a decided favorite. Miss Rees, a clever young actress, disappointed her friends. She is hardly equal to the roll, which is a difficult one, and has done much work that is better. The company, as a whole is very good indeed.

At today's matinee "Gaston Cadol" will be given. Tonight the bill will be "Damen and Pythias."

"Guilty Without Crime."

The Bradford Era thus appreciated this play and the stars:

"Guilty Without Crime," with Dore Davidson and Miss Ramie Austen, supported by their excellent company, delighted a large audience last night. Each detail was presented with a strength and fidelity that satisfied the requirements of the most critical. Mr. Davidson's performance is a wonderful piece of work in itself, and was accomplished with the skill of the perfect and finished actor. Mr. Davidson possesses a round, full voice that is always under control, and in the most thrilling and eloquent passages is never overstrained. Miss Ramie Austen sustains the more important part, and she accomplishes wonderful results. She is a magnetic and thrilling actress. It is a marvel to find in one so young so much dramatic force and power.

The New York Ledger contains the first of Mr. H. W. Grady's letters on "The South." Everybody in Georgia should read it. You can get it of John M. Miller, Opera House Bookstore.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION.

LOST—AT THE OPERA HOUSE LAST NIGHT, a pocketbook containing a sum of money, some papers and a shirt stud. Liberal reward will be paid for its return to the Constitution office.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a complaint which affects nearly everybody, more or less. It originates in a cold or succession of colds, combined with impure blood. Disagreeable flow from the nose, tickling in the throat, offensive breath, pain over and between the eyes, ringing and bursting noises in the ears, are the more common symptoms. Catarrh is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strikes directly at its cause by removing all impurities from the blood, building up the diseased tissues and giving healthy tone to the whole system. Hundreds of testimonials prove beyond question that a positive cure for catarrh is found in

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For 25 years I have been troubled with catarrh in the head, indigestion, and general debility. I concluded to try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me so much good that I continued its use till I have taken five bottles. My health has greatly improved, and I feel like a different woman." MRS. J. B. ADAMS, 8 Richmond Street, Newark, N. J.

"I feel it my duty to say that I saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised and took two bottles. I am completely cured of irregularities and constipation of my bowels, catarrh and bronchial affections." H. H. DURGAN, Atlantic City, N. J.

Dangerous tendencies characterize that very common affection, catarrh in the head. The foul matter dropping into the bronchial tubes or lungs is very liable to lead to bronchitis or consumption. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do but little good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla. The powerful action of this medicine upon the blood expels the scrofulous taint which feeds and sustains catarrhal disease, while it tones and builds up the affected membrane.

Cures Catarrh

"I had the worst symptoms of chronic catarrh for two years. So troublesome was it that I could not smell nor taste. I found Hood's Sarsaparilla a speedy cure, and I am now free from this awful disease." J. H. SAMMIS, Bay Shore, N. Y.

"For several years I had a catarrhal affection in my throat, and had tried several medicines but could find nothing to help me. I must say I was very much benefited by using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would recommend it very highly." ELIAS P. DEVRIES, Omaha, Neb.

N. B. If you have decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

INSTRUCTION.

WINTER TERM—NOVEMBER 11th.

THE GORDON SCHOOL,

Cor. Forsyth and Church Sts., Atlanta, Ga.

Parents are requested to enter the names of their boys on the books of the school at once, in order to facilitate the examinations necessary to guide the Head Master in classifying new comers.

The School contains Upper, Middle and Lower Forms, and an Annex in the nature of a complete Kindergarten, for little boys and girls.

Satisfaction is assured in every branch, from the College Preparatory to the Kindergarten, and students are better and are more comfortable than in the crowded public schools.

A catalogue, containing Advisory Body, Faculty, Course of Study, etc., will be mailed promptly to any one desiring it.

Our Charts, Modern Appliances and Books can be examined at any time.

IDEAL BROILING.

Broiling can be done in the oven of the Charter Oak Range or Stove with the Wire Gauze Oven Door, more perfectly than over the live coals.

Lay the steak, chops, ham or fish on a wire broiler or meat rack, placing it in an ordinary bake pan to catch the drippings.

Allow it to remain in the oven with the door closed 15 or 20 minutes. No turning is required. At the end of this time it will be found nicely cooked ready to serve. THIS IS THE IDEAL WAY TO BROIL MEATS.

There is no taint of coal-gas or smoke, and the meats are more tender and better in flavor than those broiled over the coals. The convenience of broiling in the oven will be appreciated by every house-keeper, and adds another to the many reasons why the Charter Oak Range or Stove with the Wire Gauze Oven Door should be preferred to all others now in the market.

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

SUPREME COURT.

DECISIONS RENDERED MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1889.

Hon. L. E. Bleckley, Chief Justice, and Hons. M. H. Blandford and T. J. Simmons, Associate Justices, Presiding—Reported by Peeples and Stevens, Supreme Court Reporters.

Darmouth Spinning Co. v. Achard. Case, from Richmond. Master and servant. Machinery. Risk. Negligence. Before Judge Roney.

Bleckley, C. J.—A machinist employed by a corporation in its factory, not to use machinery, but to keep it in good order, and having knowledge that some of it is imperfect and that employes cannot be relied upon to prevent it from becoming dangerous for lack of oil, takes the risk of discovering the condition of the machinery at the time he attempts to repair it, such risk being incident to his vocation. The incompetency or negligence of other employes, or of officers or agents of the corporation, resulting in putting the machinery out of order and rendering it dangerous, will not make the corporation liable for an injury which he sustains in handling the machinery whilst engaged without their assistance in repairing i.

M. P. Foster and Twiggs & Verdery, by brief, contra.

Statham et al. v. State. Riot from Jackson. Jury and Jurors. Criminal Law. Practice. Evidence. Before Judge Hutchins.

Bleckley, C. J.—1. A juror who lodges as a paying boarder in the house of an attorney at law during court week, up to the call of a criminal case in which the attorney is counsel for the prosecution, is not, on that account alone, absolutely disqualified to serve as a juror in such case. If the relation of boarder be ground of challenge to the favor, it should be presented and urged at the proper time.

2. A remark pending the trial, imputed to one of the jurors, to the effect that he would occupy but a short time in finding a verdict, denied on oath by the juror and proved only by the affidavit of another juror, is not cause for a new trial.

3. The evidence warranted the verdict as to the three persons found guilty.

4. The newly discovered evidence, going to no main fact, but to a single circumstance, and thereby tending to impeach one or more witnesses for the state, is not sufficiently material to call for a new trial.

Judgment affirmed.

J. B. Estes and W. I. Pike, for plaintiff in error.

Ridgeway et al. v. Ridgeway et al. Cancellation of deeds, from Oconee. Administrators. Sales. Deeds. Fraud. Title. Before Judge Hutchins.

Bleckley, C. J.—Where co-administrators join in procuring a order to sell land for distribution amongst the heirs, and one of them sells in presence of the other, but at a very low price, and immediately stipulates with the bidder to take the land for himself at an advance of $50, the bidder having neither paid the purchase money nor taken a conveyance, the transaction is virtually a purchase by the administrator of his own sale. If he goes forward and executes a deed to the bidder in which the co-administrator refuses to join, receives a check for the amount of the bid, returns the check (which thereupon is destroyed by the bidder), and takes a deed from the latter, paying the agreed $50, the land remains the property of the estate, both legally and equitably; and the two deeds ought to be cancelled as a fraudulent cloud upon the title, and the land be resold.

Wilson v. Boyd. Cancellation of deed, from Lumpkin. Taxes. Liens. Fraud. Notice. Before Judge Wellborn.

Bleckley, C. J.—1. A sale of land by the sheriff in November under a general fi. fa., does not divest the lien of the state and county for the year's taxes of the defendant in fi fa.

2. It is not a fraud for the sheriff to sell for taxes, upon due levy and return to him by a constable, the same land which he has previously sold under a general fi. fa. against the same defendant; nor is it a fraud for any one to purchase at the tax sale, though having full notice of the prior sale.

Northeastern Railroad Co v. Chandler. Case, from Clarke. Nonsuit. Evidence. Damages. Mortuary Tables. Verdict. (Before Judge Hutchins.

Blandford, J.—1. Under the facts of the case the court did right in refusing to grant a nonsuit.

2. There being evidence tending to show that injuries received by the plaintiff were of a permanent character, no error was committed by the court in admitting the Carlisle tables to show plaintiff's expectancy of life.

3. Taking all the facts and circumstances of the case into consideration, the verdict was not excessive nor was it so large as to lead to the belief that the jury were influenced by passion or prejudice.

Thomas & Strickland, contra.

Silvey v. State. Motion to discharge, from Union. Criminal Law. Demand for Trial. New Trial. (Before Judge Wellborn.)

Blandford, J.—At the October term, 1887, of the superior court of Union county, an indictment was returned against Silvey. At the April term, 1888, of said court, he made a demand for trial in accordance with section 4648 of the code. At the Octobor term, 1888, he was put on trial and found guilty, as charged in the indictment. During said term he moved for a new trial and it was granted. Nothing more was done until the April term, 1889, of said court, when he moved the court to be discharged, upon the ground that he should have had a legal trial at the October term, 1888, and had not such trial. The court overruled this motion, and he excepted. Held.

The court did not err in refusing the order asked for, it not appearing that he made a demand at the October term, 1888, to be again tried. Code, §4648.

(a) While this is true, he did not by reason of such trial lose the benefits to which he was entitled under the demand which he made. His case stood for trial at the next term of the court, but the record does not show whether, at said next term, the April term, 1889, he was placed on trial or not. It seems that if he were not tried at said April term, 1889, he was entitled to his discharge under his demand.

Judgment affirmed.

R. P. Lester and W. T. Day, for plaintiff in error.

Howard Thompson, solicitor general, by W F. Findley, contra.

Anderson v. Montgomery. Certiorari, from Lumpkin. Notice. Before Judge Wellborn.

Simmons, J.—The certiorari being made returnable by law to the October term, 1888, of the superior court, the notice required by section 4059 of the code, should have been given at least ten days before that term. It not having been given until some months thereafter, the court did not err in dismissing the certiorari.

(a) The fact that the magistrate was not served in time to answer at the October term, and by order of the court, was given until the April term to be served and to answer, and that notice was given to the defendant in certiorari ten days before said April term, can make no difference. The fact that the sheriff fails to serve the magistrate with the writ and petition, will not excuse the plaintiff in certiorari from giving the defendant the notice required by law.

Judgment affirmed.

Wier Boyd, by brief, for plaintiff in error.

Price & Charters, by brief, contra.

Hardman v. Nowell et al. Ejectment, from Walton. Father and Child. Gift. Loan. Charge of the Court. Before Judge Hutchins.

Simmons, J.—1. Under §2664 of the code, the father can make three defenses to a claim of gift of land by parol on the part of the child: (1) that the child went into possession under the agreement that the land was to be loaned to him; (2) that the father claimed a dominion over the land and the claim was acknowledged by the child; (3) that the child disclaimed title to the land. It appearing from the evidence in this case that the only defense insisted on by the father was the first mentioned above, it was error to charge that the jury could not find for the father unless they believed from the evidence that the son went into possession of the land as a loan, and that a claim of dominion by the father was acknowledged by him, or that the son disclaimed title to the land.

2. A charge upon the subject of rescission of a contract of loan between the father and child was not authorized by the evidence, and was therefore erroneous.

(a) At the next trial the court should submit to the jury the simple question whether it was a gift by the father to the son or a loan; and leave out the questions whether the father claimed dominion and dominion was acknowledged by the son, or whether the son disclaimed title to the land.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Purest and the Best.

This is an age of adulteration and cheap goods. Most every article has its counterpart in something cheaper. Groceries are adulterated in almost every conceivable form. Take sugar, for instance. It is very seldom you can get the pure, genuine stuff.

It is that way with Tobacco and Cigars. Probably in no business is the adulteration carried to such an extent as it is in cigar making. It is right cleverly done, too. A fair looking and unobjectionable wrapper is filled with trash; merely the pickings and scraps around a tobacco factory. The filling is subjected to chemicals, and furnishes a right decent smoke for the time being. In fact, you can hardly tell whether you are smoking a strictly pure Havana cigar or one of a cheap and adulterated grade. The effect may be observed afterward. While a cheap cigar may be smoked with almost as much pleasure and scarcely feel the effect at the time, yet it will have a deleterious bearing on the human system. There is wherein the danger lies in smoking cheap cigars. It is an old saying, and one that is strictly true, that "it is the best to get the best." Good goods, pure goods, are never hurtful. Instead of having a hurtful character, they have more of a building up, invigorating effect. There is nothing so invigorating, so restful, so delicious, and that drives away care more effectively than a real first-class cigor.

It is our intention to call your attention to two brands that have the approval of connoisseurs all over the country. These brands have been weighed in the balance and found not wanting. To a thoughtful person it is almost useless to call their attention to these brands. They know them. They have used them. The brands of the cigars referred to, are:

"The Rabbit Foot." "The Three Kings."

They are manufactured by the celebrated house of Lichtenstein Bros., of New York, and are sold to the trade by Harralson Bros. & Co., of this city. Lichtenstein Bros. are probably the best cigar manufacturers in America, and turn out only the very best class of goods. These cigars are retailed at 5 cents. They are regarded by many to be as good as the regular 10-cent cigar. They are sold to the southern and southwestern trade through the large wholesale house of Harralson Bros. & Co. So popular have they become since being placed on the market that there is scarcely a town throughout the southeastern states that these cigars are not well and favorably known. If you have not had an opportunity to buy them, ask your dealer to order you a box. They furnish a mild, pleasant, restful smoke. sun tuesfri

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—TO THE SUPERIOR court of Fulton county—Edward C. Peters, Richard Peters, Ralph Peters, Quintard Peters and Henry M. Atkinson, respectfully represent that they wish, for personal enjoyment and gain, to be incorporated for twenty years under the name of the Peters' Land company. The business they propose to carry on is that of owning, buying, selling, improving, leasing, renting, using, and controlling real estate, making and taking, holding, buying and selling notes, mortgages, or other contracts or obligations, given for, or upon or relating to real estate. The capital stock employed by them and actually paid in shall be one hundred thousand dollars, consisting of shares of one hundred dollars each with the privilege of increasing it to five hundred thousand dollars. Subscriptions to the capital stock may be made payable in real estate. Their place of doing business will be in the city of Atlanta and elsewhere in the state of Georgia. They wish to have such officers and agents as the stockholders may deem necessary and to have all such rights and powers as are conferred by law on corporations and to do all such acts as are necessary for the legitimate execution of their purpose.

STATE OF GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—TO the Superior Court of Said County: The petition of W. T. Spalding and Alex. W. Smith respectfully shows that they and their associates, successors and assigns desire to be incorporated and made a body politic, under the name of Southern Railway Equipment Company, for the full term of twenty years, with privilege of renewal at the expiration of said time, with power to govern themselves by such rules and bylaws as they may adopt in conformity with law and this charter, and with all the common rights, powers, duties and privileges of corporations under the laws of Georgia.

The objects of said corporation and the particular business it proposes to carry on for profit to its stockholders are the buying, leasing, manufacturing, selling and renting or otherwise dealing in railway supplies and equipment of all kinds and descriptions, such as railroad freight cars, passenger cars, locomotive engines and railroad supplies and equipment generally.

The capital stock of said company shall be five thousand dollars with power in its board of directors to increase the same from time to time to any amount not exceeding five million dollars; said stock to be divided into shares of $100 each and ten per cent. of the amount subscribed to be paid in before the company can exercise the powers herein enumerated, and subscribers thereto shall be liable to the creditors of the corporation for the amount of their unpaid subscriptions only.

The principal office of said company shall be in Fulton county, Georgia, but it may establish such branch offices elsewhere as its business may require.

Petitioners desire power to own, rent, lease and hold such real estate and other property as may be necessary to procure shops, warehouses, stores and other buildings that may be used in its business or that may be necessary in carrying out the objects of said corporation.

Wherefore petitioners pray that, after compliance with the statute as to filing, publication, etc., the court may pass an order incorporating them, their associates and successors with all the powers and privileges above set out.

And petitioners will ever pray, etc.

RECEIVER'S SALE

— OF THE —

ROME AND DECATUR R. R. CO.

UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE RENdered in the superior court of Floyd county, in the state of Georgia, on the 27th day of April, 1889, and of the further decree of the same court rendered on July 9, 1889, by the Hon. John W. Maddox, judge of said court presiding, and by virtue of a decree rendered by the Hon. S. K. McSpadden, chancellor of the fifteenth district, northeastern chancery division at Gadsden, in the state of Alabama, on the 5th day of July, 1889, the undersigned, as receiver of the Rome and Decatur railroad company, as directed by said decrees will proceed to sell on the 18th day of December, 1889, at public auction and to the highest bidder, at the Real Estate Exchange, in the city and state of New York, at the hour of 12 m, upon the terms and under the conditions hereinafter stated:

All and singular the railroad of the Rome and Decatur Railroad company as constructed and now in operation from the city of Rome, in the state of Georgia, to the town of Attalla, in the state of Alabama; and also all the right, title and interest of any and every character which said railroad company in any manner acquired of in and to the railroad of the Tennessee and Coosa River Railroad company, or any part thereof, and all right of way, depot, grounds, yards, and all other lands and interests in lands appertaining, or to appertain to the railroad of said railroad company first above named as now constructed between the points aforesaid, and all the roadbeds, bridges, piers, abutments, trestles, viaducts, culverts, crossties, tracks, rails, switches, signals, turnouts, side-tracks, turn-tables, fences, depots, station houses, warehouses, engine houses, sheds, machine shops, and other shops, water tanks, and all other structures, erections and fixtures of every sort, and all terminal facilities which it now owns; also all its rolling stock and equipments of every character, including locomotives and their appurtenances, passenger cars, sleeping cars, coal cars, drawing room cars, freight cars, cattle cars, platform cars, cabooses, and all truck and vehicles of every character and all its tools, implements and machinery, instruments, furniture, safes, books, accounts, maps, field notes, surveys and charts used or intended to be used in connection with said railroad company, or any portion thereof: also all materials and supplies of every character now owned by said railroad company and intended to be used in the construction, completion, equipment, maintenance or operation of said railroad company or any part thereof, and which are now in the possession or under the control of said railroad company, or of the undersigned as receiver of the same, together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining, and the freights, tolls, issues, incomes and profits thereof: And also all the corporate and other franchises, privileges, rights and liberties of every sort now owned, possessed or enjoyed by said railroad company in any manner appertaining to its said railroad or any part thereof, whether in the state of Georgia, or the state of Alabama, including the right and franchise to extend, construct said railroad westwardly from said town of Attalla to the town of Decatur, in the state of Alabama, and eastwardly from the city of Rome, in the state of Georgia.

No bid for less than Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000) will be received or considered. The purchaser will be required to pay to the undersigned in cash, at the time and place of sale, not less than fifteen per cent of the price at which said sale shall be made; the balance to be paid within three months after the entry of an order confirming said sale shall have been made in the courts of both Georgia and Alabama above mentioned. Said balance may be paid either wholly in cash, or partly in cash and partly in receivers certificates at par with accrued interest, or partly in cash partly in receiver's certificates and partly in the bonds of said railroad company, or partly in cash and partly in said bonds of said company, but the bonds will not be received in payment at a valuation greater than the dividend which shall ultimately be found payable to said purchaser as the holder of the bonds tendered in payment, nor will any part of the purchase price of said property be received in bonds until after enough has been paid in money and receiver's certificates to fully discharge all of the receiver's certificates and interest thereon in addition to the cash payment of fifteen per cent herein required. No title will vest in the purchaser, nor conveyance be made to him until after a full compliance with the terms of this sale.

This sale is made under and by virtue of the decrees above mentioned in the case of Daniel Callahan versus the Rome and Decatur Railroad company, the American Loan and Trust Company, et al., the same being a bill and cross-bill filed originally in Floyd superior court in the state of Georgia, and filed as an ancillary bill and cross-bill in the chancery court at Gadsden, in the state of Alabama, for the fifteenth district northeastern chancery division of said last named state. Said decrees above mentioned directing the sale of the entire line of railroad together with its franchise and all other property belonging or appertaining to said corporation.

This sale by the receiver will be of the property of said railroad company, disencumbered of liens thereon, if any, which may exist in favor of Daniel Callahan, the plaintiff in the original suit, for any and all claims on his part against said railroad company, or against the receiver, and of all liens in favor of any other parties to said case, and of the officers of the court for costs, expenses or other allowances to them by the court which has been or may be hereafter made. The liens, if any, however, shall attach to the proceeds of said sale. This the 6th day of August, 1889.

R. T. DORSEY,
Receiver Rome and Decatur Railroad Company.

The above sale is postponed to 12 o'clock. m.: on Wednesday, December 18th, 1889, at the same place, at the auction stand of Scott & Myers.

AUCTION—REAL ESTATE.

AUCTION! AUCTION!! W. M. SCOTT, AUCtioneer. Our big auction sale of 83 business and residence lots at Kennesaw or old historic Big Shanty on the Western and Atlantic railroad, within an hour's ride of Atlanta, will come off Thursday, December 5, 1889, at 9:30 a.m. The fine railroad accommodations for reaching Atlanta early in the morning and returning at almost any hour (there being about twenty trains a day going and coming) together with the cheap fare, make this place specially desirable as homes for parties doing business in the city. You can have you families live in this beautiful place, famous for its pure mountain air and cold water, and you yourself spend the quiet evenings with them after the day's worry with business in the city. Here you have no city taxes to pay, but away from the smoke and dust and noise of the city, can enjoy the beautiful scenery so lavishly displayed, and eat of the fruits and vegetables fresh from your own orchards and gardens. The society is choice, with good schools and churches. The reasonable terms of this sale, which is to be without reserve, puts it within the reach of all to own a home in this delightful resort. Terms, one-fourth cash, balance in one, two and three years, with 8 per cent interest.

Titles are perfect. Go with us and buy some of this fine property.

Train will leave carshed at 7:50 a. m. on December 5th, 1889. Call at our office and get plats. W. M. Scott & Co.

A Bread Trust Forming.

An English syndicate with headquarters in Chicago has bought the great Minneapolis flour mills and is steadily working to secure all the important mills of the country. The Nashville American reports that the large Nashville mills with a capacity of 2,200 barrels a day, are under option to the syndicate and will probably be sold.

This syndicate is represented to be seeking only the increased profit which arises from the saving in large consolidated management, but its quiet and rapid work has the appearance of a swift forming monopoly. It is well for the people to keep their eyes open. The product of the Nashville mills is half the daily bread of Tennessee, and when the option was signed it meant that the incipient monopoly had by one stroke of the pen scooped in half a state. With the purchase of the Minneapolis mills they put the bread of several states between their fingers. With all the mills of the country in their grasp, the monopoly for a time would be more complete than that of old Hutch, and it is ten to one they would take advantage of their opportunity. Both the farmer and the consumer would be in their power for a short time. Of course, new mills could be built, but it would take time and meanwhile people must live—partly on flour.

Now that their designs are apparent, it is impossible for them to get a complete monopoly, but they may control enough mills to materially affect the price of flour and wheat. Ultimately their operations would result in good to the people. As soon as they got mills enough to put on the screws a little, the fight would begin with other capital rushing into construction. In a year there would be more mills than the grain of the country would supply or the consumption support. The trust mills would be boycotted and would inevitably succumb. On the whole they can do no great harm. If they try extortion it will be temporary extortion that will sow the seed of fiercer competition. In a contest between the trust and the people on a matter of bread, the people will inevitably prevail.

Abusing Mr. Davis.

Editor Murat Halstead, of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, appears to be gradually drawing away from the republican party.

Not long ago, after printing a serious charge against a democratic candidate, Mr. Halstead, with a manliness and an honesty entirely foreign to his political affiliations, announced that the document on which the charge was based was a forgery. Immediately, the republican organs and leaders began to abuse the Cincinnati editor, and he was compelled to make whole pages of explanations. These explanations were unsatisfactory, of course, for nothing is more offensive to the average republican than manliness and honesty.

But Mr. Halstead's prompt and effectual treatment of the Campbell forgery is a very small offense compared with that which he has just committed. In a recent issue of the Commercial Gazette, he has an article headed "Jefferson Davis as a Dying Man." The article is called forth by the protests of certain readers who are burdened with the environments of sectionalism and provinciality. These readers complain that the Commercial Gazette has adopted too kindly a tone in speaking of Mr. Davis, whereupon Mr. Halstead proceeds to read them a lesson in gentility and charity.

Responding to the complaints of his narrow-minded subscribers, Mr. Halstead reminds them that millions shared with Jefferson Davis the opinions and deeds for which he is now hated at the north, and that "their fierce affection for him has only been made intense by his misfortunes, and, animated by the feeling that, as he had been their leader, they are called upon to aid in bearing his burdens. Let it be understood," says Mr. Halstead sentimentally, "that it is not a reproach to be a rebel. It is a name of which the most illustrious men have been proud."

To this the editor of the Commercial Gazette adds this remark—that "it would not be the part of wisdom to forget, as he fades from the earth, that the brave and strong people of a dozen states very largely look upon him with veneration; and that the solid nationality of the country, its security and peaceableness and happy fame in the future depend greatly upon the loyalty of those people to the institutions of freedom and their faithfulness at last to the inalienable rights of all men."

All this has the genuine American touch and spirit, but it need not be said that those who have abused Mr. Halstead for exposing a forgery will raise a tremendous dust when they read his remarks about Jefferson Davis, and they will be joined by Editor Joseph Medill, of the Chicago Tribune, whose paper has been abusing Mr. Davis soundly of late. It is difficult to imagine what fruits Editor Medill's fury will bring forth, but Mr. Halstead is a much healthier target than Mr. Davis.

The Newspaper Man.

The eighty young aristocrats and their friends who are, more or less, concerned in the recent London club scandal are in despair.

These young lordlings are not afraid of the police, the courts, or the government. But they are afraid of Editor Labouchere.

Mr. Labouchere is the editor of the London Truth. He is a bright, versatile and fearless journalist, and he is making it his business to uncover the scandal. He has the people at his back, and the culprits he is after know it. Already the guilty parties are leaving England.

The newspaper man is a greater power for good or evil than the statesman. When Katkoff died, there was no one to take his place. But when the czar dies, there is another czar. Rochefort did as much as Germany to overthrow Louis Napoleon. The most influential man in Spain is Castelar, a journalist. Even in Brazil, in the first throes of the upheaval the newspaper man comes to the surface in the cabinet.

Times have changed. Not very long ago the newspaper man was thrown into prison when he criticised royalty; now he sends royalty into exile, and builds republics.

The secret of all this is plain. In our day the newspaper man is of the people and for the people.

IF A BREAD TRUST is formed the country will have to go back to the nursing bottle and live on imperial granum and tapioca pudding.

THE FIRST DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS failed to have a quorum. This is about as bad a beginning as could have been made. The time has arrived when the democrats in congress should get together.

THE REPUBLICANS, being in a popular minority in this country, are rank to pass a federal election law.

THE COURIER-JOURNAL says that in Kentucky the thermometer rarely takes a drop too much. The explanation of this is that the thermometer is not native and to the manner born.

COLONEL EUGENE FIELD, of Chicago, met Mr. John Smith in London and wrote a long poem about him. John has a knack of getting there, being descended from the original Eli.

SOME VILLAIN has been rifling John Wanamaker's letters. They found nothing but circulars advising the public to assemble at the ten-cent counter.

IF IT WASN'T that Jefferson Davis is "an arch-rebel and a traitor," Chicago would want the aid of southern congressmen in getting the world's fair. But Chicago editors are too proud to ask the aid of those who are just as rebellious and traitorous as Jefferson Davis.

EDITOR MEDILL's able paper, the Tribune, is a powerful adjunct in securing southern support for Chicago in the world's fair contest. The southern "traitors in the last ditch" will probably be on hand.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

A PHILADELPHIA MAGISTRATE has decided that when a person "glares in a fiendish way" at another it is an assault, and the offender may be arrested and punished. It is a queer decision, but it must be admitted that a fiendish glare is very annoying.

IN ANNOUNCING the probable candidacy of Hon. T. H. Blount for governor, THE CONSTITUTION knew what it was doing. The Macon Telegraph, however is disposed to doubt it, saying:

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION of yesterday announces Hon. James H. Blount as a candidate for governor. This is kind of THE CONSTITUTION, but Mr. Blount has a habit of making his own announcements. Therefore the aforesaid statement lacks at least one important element of authenticity. It may be considered reliable when Mr. Blount says so and not before.

We want no thanks, neighbor, for giving the news, for the people must have it. But if occasionally we tell you something that you did not know, don't lose your temper but put it down that THE CONSTITUTION never gets left.

"GARTERS MUST GO," remarks a Philadelphia editor. Well, they are going. A pair of them started out from the New York World office recently to go around the globe in seventy five days.

THE WORST MEN GET certificates of character when they die. The roue who was killed in New York last week by the woman he betrayed and drove to frenzy is thus spoken of by his brother directors in a business enterprise: "Daily contact with him, experience in all phases of business and of social intercourse, have given to us the opportunity of knowing his true character, and we can justly testify to its stainlessness."

THE PRESENT HEAD of the Mormon church, President Woodruff, says that each person now on earth is individually beset by 100 devils. He declares that be has actually seen devils, and says that they frequently appear in the flesh before the eyes of men. President Woodruff scares the younger Mormons into fits when he talks in this fashion.

CHRIS MILLER, a Louisville undertaker started to prepare a corpse for burial the other night, when the supposed dead man suddenly flopped over and asked for a drink, the undertaker skipped.

PERHAPS MRS. SOUTHWORTH will not be punished for shooting Mr. Pettus in New York. There was a similar case in Washington some years ago. A Miss Mary Harris shot and killed a Mr. Burroughs, who had betrayed her under promise of marriage. Dan Voorhees defended the girl, and took the position that, as a woman had a right to kill a man in order to save her reputation, she had the right to kill him when he had ruined her reputation. Mary Harris was acquitted amidst general applause. If that verdict was right, Mrs. Southworth should be acquitted.

GENERAL GEORGIA GOSSIP.

Picked Up at Random From the Georgia Papers.

—Colonel W. H. Willis, one of the most prominent citizens of Macon county, furnishes the following chapter of political history to the Montezuma Record:

In 1860 Abraham Lincoln was the first republican elected to the presidency of the United States. He was inaugurated in 1861, followed by the great civil war at a fearful loss of life and treasure.

In 1864 Mr. Lincoln was re-elected and inaugurated in 1865, and was soon after assassinated.

In 1868 General Grant, republican, was elected to the presidency and inaugurated in 1869, followed by the most disastrous fires in Chicago, Washington and Baltimore, and millions of property destroyed.

In 1872 Grant was re-elected and inaugurated in '73, followed by "Black Friday," and a general panic throughout the country, with immense losses.

1887 Hayes, republican, was inaugurated as president though not elected, followed by bread riots in some of the northern cities and the inauguration of "strikes" in the United States.

In 1880 Garfield, republican, was elected and inaugurated in '81, and was soon thereafter assassinated.

In 1884 Cleveland, democrat, was elected and inaugurated in '85, followed by peace, order and prosperity throughout the country.

1888 Harrison, republican, elected and inaugurated in '89 followed so far by the greatest and most destructive floods known to the country.

—The superintendent of the South Brunswick Terminal has written to a prominent citizen of Blackshear that the road will be built from Brunswick to Cordele, and that if the citizens of Blackshear and Pierce county will give them the right-of-way, it will pass through Blackshear. A mass meeting of the citizens will be held soon to make the necessary concessions.

—The congressional campaign is opening in the fourth district. The Carroll County Times thus reviews the situation:

Coweta has two or three gentlemen who would accept the nomination. One of these, Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, is said to be real good congressional timber. Hon. A. D. Freeman has been a candidate, but the report is that he is satisfied with his position at present. Troup has about three gentlemen who want to go to congress badly, it is said. Tom Crenshaw would like to go, also Colonel Fannin and Colonel Traylor. Meriwether is sure to have one candidate in the person of Hon. Henry R. Harris. We have it from some sources that he is already in the field. Hon. W. R. Gorman, of Talbot, is said to be a candidate and will be a pretty swift one in that part of the district. He lives in Henry Persons's county. Captain Persons would also like to run just once more, so it is said. In Carroll, the banner democratic county of the district, the political waters are calm. Of course Carroll has a man that her people would be proud to see in congress, one of the best in the state. Nearly every voter in the county would be solid for Judge Sam Harris. Our people think they ought to have a slice once in a half century. There would be no "below and above the mountain" with the judge in the race—all be an unit. Hon. B. H. Jackson, of Heard, is said to be congressional timber also, and Tom W. Grimes is in the race again.

—Mr. Snelson, of Meriwether, is announced by his home organ, the Greenville Free Press, as a candidate for the next legislature. It says:

Mr. Snelson has not thought of being in the race for congress, nor would his friends in Meriwether solicit him to run at this time, although we believe he would do the country good service in congress. His friends think that they cannot yet afford to dispense with his services in our legislature. The good work of retrenchment and reform in our state government, which was begun and insisted upon by Mr. Snelson at the last session of the general assembly, should go on, and Snelson's friends in Meriwether intend that he shall take a leading part in its completion. Mr. Snelson has never and will not become a self-made candidate for any office, but he is in the hands of his friends, and will yield to their wishes.

—Congressman Stewart, of this district will introduce in congress a bill to erect a United States prison in the south. This is a measure that has very frequently been urged by the Georgia papers, and it is sincerely to be hoped that it will meet with success before this congress. As it is, hundreds of prisoners are sent from the southern states to the federal prison at Albany, and the hardships incident to the change of climate very frequently results fatally. Several Georgia prisoners in Albany have died from exposure to the cold climate of the north. A federal prison ought to be established in the south and it is not at all improbable that this congress will authorize it.

—The colored republicans of Sandersville held a meeting a few days ago to consider the question of evading the census enumerators, and refusing to give the enumerators information as to their families. Noah Johnson, who presided, stated that there were twelve congressmen from Georgia, and that if the negroes were not enumerated, this number would be greatly reduced, which would be beneficial to the republican party, as all of the Georgia congressmen were democrats. It was resolved by the meeting to establish clubs in every part of the district, to notify the colored people of the movement, and to bind them to its observance. After so resolving, they strangely passed resolutions recommending that only negro men be appointed to the position of census enumerators in Georgia. These men, probably, do not know that, should they carry out their resolution to thwart the enumerators, they will lay themselves liable to the law. They will probably be wiser should they reflect over the matter from the cold walls of a prison, and it may be that they will have the opportunity of so doing, and that Pledger, who is responsible for it may be there with them as a consoler.

—The Farmers' Alliance of Colquitt county is doing some substantial work in the way of co-operation. A few days ago Mr. John Crosby's horse died, and being unable to buy another, the alliance called for ten cent subscriptions from members of the county to help him. Almost a large enough sum has been raised to get a new horse for Mr. Crosby.

Among the Georgia Papers.

—The Broadax is the name of a new Waycross paper. This is the third paper now being published in that enterprising little town.

—The Lithonia New Era has become the official organ of DeKalb county. Under the management of Colonel Steadman it steadfastly advances to the front, and it enters its third year with unusually bright prospects.

—Editor P. T. McCutchen, of the Fraklin News, is said to be the handsomest man on the Georgia press, with the possible exception of Henry Richardson.

—Messrs. Persons and Mumford are making a splendid weekly of the Talbotton New Era.

—Griffin has two dailies, and both seem to be holding their own. It is the only town in the state with two morning dailies.

ABOUT THE CAPITOL.

Governor Gordon will leave Chicago tonight and will be at the capitol again on Thursday. A dispatch was received yesterday morning at the executive department from the governor asking if his immediate presence was needed in Atlanta, and stating that if no special business was waiting his attention he would delay his return for a day. He was wired to the effect that there was nothing unusually important to call him home.

The executive department has been flooded recently by petitions from banks who wish to be appointed state depositaries. The last legislature passed a law authorizing the governor to appoint banks in four places to receive state moneys in addition to those now in commission. The petitions came from the places designated by the legislature.

Judge Nisbet said yesterday that it is not probable that any appointments will be made under the act in time for the banks to enjoy the benefit of any moneys collected for the present tax year; for the reason that the state has been divided into territories by the comptroller-general, and the tax collectors have been notified where to deposit their collections. The collectors are required to settle their accounts by the 20th of December, so it is not considered advisable to make a general change of depository this year.

Judge Nisbet has received lately a number of inquiries as to when the state banks will be required to make their yearly statement. Under a law passed by the last legislature creating a bank examiner, and by virtue of his office making the state treasurer the incumbent, the returns will no longer be received by the executive department, as has been done heretofore. The bank examiner is required to visit each state bank at least twice a year, and he may demand statements as often as he sees fit. Treasurer Hardeman has not yet decided when he will make his first tour of inspection. It will probably, however, be made early in January next.

The taxes for this year are coming in slowly, so slowly in fact that it can scarcely be said that they are coming in at all. Both the comptroller-general and the state treasurer are much annoyed by the delay. Colonel Hardeman said yesterday that the trouble was caused by the act of a young member of the legislature who, in 1885, tried to make the date on which the tax collectors are required to settle their accounts with the comptroller-general and the date on which the money must be paid in to the treasury agree. In accordance with his laudable desire the members put a bill through the house making it illegal for a tax collector to issue a fi fa before the 20th of December. The consequence is that while the collectors are still obliged to send in their accounts to the comptroller's office by the 20th of December, they can take no action to make a man pay his taxes until that date.

Captain Furlow, who has charge of the tax department of the comptroller general's office, also thinks the delay in tax returns is caused by the law of 1885. He said yesterday: "Every legislature since the one which passed the bill prohibiting the issue of fi. fas. by the tax collectors before the 20th of December has been requested to repeal or alter the law, but they have always refused to do so. Previous to 1885, the taxes were generally all in by the 1st of January, and now it is March or April before the money is received. Every year it is gettting worse because the people have found out that nothing can be done to make them pay before the 20th of December, so they keep their money as long as they can. Besides the annoyance of not being able to close our books the state is losing thousands of dollars every year. Numbers of men who rent plantations for the purpose of raising crops are taxed on their mules, horses and other stock. Many of them, after their crops are made, move to another county right under the nose of the tax collector, and he can do nothing to stop them, because the law forbids him to issue his fi fa until a certain date. There always has been, and always will be, an insolvent list, whose taxes have to be collected after the accounts are handed into this office, but the number of people who delay paying their taxes until the last moment is growing larger every year."

Almost every public school teacher in Georgia has been paid for the past year's service in full. The returns received by School Commissioner Hook yesterday show that Ware, Thomas, Franklin, and Appling are the only counties who have not drawn the money due them. The teachers get their money early as the tax collectors are authorized to pay over the first moneys they collect to the county school commissioners.

School Commissioner Hook was at his office for a few hours yesterday. He left by the evening train to examine the public school system at Waycross.

MR. BLOUNT TALKS

IN RELATION TO THE GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN.

He Refuses to Affirm or Deny the Statement That He is in the Race for Governor—The Inferences Drawn.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—[Special.]—THE CONSTITUTION's editorial of Sunday, in which it is announced that Congressman James H. Blount is understood to be in the race for governor, created considerable comment among the Georgia delegation today.

NEITHER AFFIRMS OR DENIES.

When spoken to about it, Mr. Blount replied that he had not seen the article referred to. The contents were repeated to him, when he said:

"I can neither answer yes nor no. I decline to say anything on the subject."

This answer evidently means that he is in the hands of his friends. His friends here are of the opinion that later on, after the people and the press are sounded, if Mr. Blount's chances appear to be better than those of either of the other candidates, he will but Mr. Blount is a shrewd politician of many years experience, and has no idea of being rash enough to announce himself as a candidate for governor nearly twelve months before the election. It matters not how popular a man might be, the chances are that he will run himself to death in the twelve months' race, and this, it is evident, Mr. Blount has no idea of doing. That Mr. Blount is in the sixth congressional district, his term of seventeen years in congress amply evidence. He also has considerable strength throughout the state, and when he does enter the contest politics will hum in Georgia, and the scramble will be as lively as the memorable Gordon-Bacon campaign. E. W. B.

THROUGH THE SOUTH.

High License in South Carolina—Fuel Gas in New Orleans—Texas and Virginia.

The failure of the large woolen mills of Cantrell & Faulkner, of McMinnville, Tenn., is a puzzling sign of the times. That part of Tennessee is a great wool growing region, and this firm had built up a large demand for its jeans. At the same place, not long ago, the large cotton mills controlled by Mr. F. McLaurin, a former Georgian, failed. Cotton mills and woolen mills elsewhere in the south have usually made handsome dividends.

Memphis has followed in the footsteps of Atlanta and organized a city executive committee. The nominations for officers of the taxing district were made by a representative committee very much as was done in Atlanta.

Mr. William Duncan, a director of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, returns from New York enthusiastic over the rise in pig iron. They are now offered $16 per ton at the furnace for number 1 foundry as against $10.49, the price of their October sales. They have sold 20,000 tons, and the gain of $5 makes them $100,000 on the lot. On their daily production of 100 tons they realize $5,000 by the advance—a difference of $1,825,000 in a year. General Alger, of Detroit, has just been elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of ex-Governor John C. Brown.

The furnacemen of the Birmingham region are jubilant over the advance in iron and refuse to sell ahead. On the 2,500 tons a day made by the twenty-five furnaces of the region the advance of $5 a ton gives them a daily gain of $12,500 over October prices.

A Birmingham court has decided that the law authorizing the mayor and alderman of Birmingham to levy tax on abutting property for paving the streets is unconstitutional. If the supreme court affirms this decision, the city will have to refund $50,000 to the stockholders.

A hot municipal campaign is decided by the election in Louisville, Ky., today. Three aldermen are to be elected, and Mayor Jacob is taking sides. The democrats are confident of victory.

Fifty-seven laborers employed at the Jacksonboro phosphate works, South Carolina, are confined in Colleton county jail on the charge of riot and intimidation of the other laborers. Many of them are foreigners, and the French and German consuls at Charleston tried to get them out of jail, but without success.

The economists have carried the day in the South Carolina legislature and passed the bill cutting down the salaries of minor state offices.

The South Carolina house of representatives has passed the bill fixing liquor license at $500 in every town and city of the state. The Charleston representative gave earnest support to the measure, saying that the license in Charleston was lower on the sale of liquor than on bread.

An English syndicate has bought the New Orleans breweries and will increase their capacity and push the trade with Central America.

The committee on streets and landings in New Orleans is now considering an ordinance asked by a company which proposes to make a non-illuminating fuel gas to be used as natural gas is used in Pittsburg. By recent investigations several processes have been found by which such gas can be made economically. The ordinance suggested by the company fixes seventy-five cents a thousand feet as the maximum price. Mr. A. A. Woods, the prime mover in the enterprise, tells the Picayune that the fuel gas made by one formula will fuse Swedish steel at a temperature of 4,500 Fahrenheit. It is stated that the Disston saw works at Tacony, Pa., use fuel gas in preference to coal.

There is an interesting discussion among the Texas papers about the railroad outlook. The Galveston News holds to the idea that Texas is a "railroad cemetery," where even the fittest will not survive. The more hopeful Houston Post maintains, on the contrary, that Texas roads have passed out of the hands of their builders merely because there is economy in large management and consolidation is the order of the day. The fact that so much money has recently gone into railroad building in Texas gives strength to the position of the Houston paper. The optionists are nearer right than the pessimists.

The railroads of Texas are arranging for the editors of the northwest to invade Texas. It would be well for the representatives of the frozen states to visit Georgia, where they can get the best sample of the southern climate they are seeking. Such an excursion will bring some of the best farmers of thrifty Iowa and ice-bound Wisconsin to till our surplus lands. It remains to be seen whether the Georgia roads have as much get up as those in Texas.

The daily press of Texas seems to be enjoying an unusual degree of prosperity. The Fort Worth Gazette has just enlarged to an eight page, seven column, daily form and has extended its special news service. The Dallas News runs a special news train every day in the year to Denizen, and makes connections there which put the News in northern Texas before breakfast. This schedule is fifty miles an hour and the News claims that it is the fastest regular train in the United States. The St. Louis Republic has a jealous eye on this rich territory, and it is said will establish the "Dallas Republic" at an early day.

The geological survey, now in progress in Texas, is making rich finds of variegated marble, in beautiful colors, gypsum and other valuable minerals. The work includes a topographical survey which is made pari-passu with the search for minerals and the examination of soils.

The taxable property of Texas increased forty millions last year. Real estate and railroads pay 74 per cent of the tax on property, while non-productive lands pay two-thirds of the whole tax on land—cultivated lands comprising only about 6 per cent of the area. Unproductive lands, however, are taxed very much less in proportion to value than the cultivated lands. The Galveston News thinks the assessment is against the farmers, and makes them bear greater burdens than they ought.

The Virginia legislature convenes tomorrow and with its organization an interesting contest for state offices will begin. Hon. Richard H. Caldwell, the former speaker of the house, will be re-elected. Treasurer A. W. Harman will be re-elected without trouble. For the other state offices there will be numerous candidates. The senate will be called to order by Lieutenant-Governor Massey and the house by the veteran clerk, John Bell Bigger.

The fifth annual session of the Young Men's Christian Association College conference is in session at Washington and Lee university at Lexington, Va., and the exercises of that institution are suspended for the time. The college branch of the Young Men's Christian association has over 1,800 members in the college and universities and seven high schools and other institutions of learning.

The Asheville, N. C., Citizen has the following interview with Mr. J. Gall, Jr., the superintendent of improvements on Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt's new North Carolina estate:

"The palace to be erected will be 300 feet long, and the superstructure will be of Indiana limestone, which is of a beautiful fawn color. The foundation will be made of the stone taken out of Mr. Vanderbilt's own quarries. Also the material for the walls of the esplanade or plateau on which the house will be built will be obtained from the same quarries. These walls will be forty feet high in some places, and the esplanade will extend some five or six hundred feet in either direction, presenting the point of the diamond-shaped plateau to the French Broad. The palace which is to be built on this plateau will not be begun until next spring. Then excavations are to be begun and the foundations laid. Two towers have already been erected on the site of the house. These are just the height of the first story of the building and by means of these can be seen what the view will be from the house itself and the grading can be done accordingly. All the forests which have been cut down will be restored. The trees which will be planted will be evergreens of various kinds, mostly white pines. The idea is to afford a pleasant winter view. It is intended ultimately to have a nursery from which can be supplied the trees needed on the estate. The laying of the foundation for three stables for cattle has been commenced. They will be arranged according to the latest sanitary ideas and the water will be led to them by pipes. The cattle will be stall ree. Altogether Mr. Vanderbilt's palace and its surroundings promise to surpass anything ever seen in the south."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

About the Deveaux Appointment.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: In this morning's issue of your paper your reporter has erred in quoting me on the "Deveaux" matter as relates to Colonel Garrard. I did not state to him that Colonel Garrard put his name to Deveaux's papers. I have no knowledge of his having had anything to do with the matter of the appointment, and did not intend to convey any such idea. The remarks Colonel Garrard made to me were not made with any reference to Deveaux's appointment to office.

By inserting the above in your next issue you will greatly oblige. Yours respectfully,

A. E. BUCK.

Atlanta, Ga., December 2, 1889.

IT WILL BE MAYOR NELMS.

The Citizens of West End Meet and Nominate City Officers.

A mayor and two councilmen were nominated by the citizens of West End last night.

The mass meeting, which was held for the purpose, was a thoroughly representative one, and every man present was enthusiastic in supporting the candidates whom they considered best fitted to fill the positions.

The meeting was held in the hall over Caldwell's store. Mr. J. Henly Smith was elected presiding officer and Mr. W. W. Lambdin secretary.

The first duty of the meeting was to nominate a mayor, and this was done with little difficulty. The name of Dr. John W. Nelms, ex-United States marshal was proposed, and he was nominated for the office.

Two councilmen were also needed to fill the places of Dr. Crenshaw and Mr. M. Taylor, whose term of service has expired. Mr. Albert Howell, Jr., and Mr. F. R. Bunker were nominated for the vacancies.

Messrs. Joe Hunnicutt, Forest Adair and Burgess Smith are the hold-over members and they with the two new members will govern the affairs of West End for twelve months.

The sentiment of West End is in favor of progress and the meeting of last night was decidedly enthusiastic. Needed improvements, such as lights, good streets, etc., will be made just as soon as possible, and the new council will do all it can to aid the new work.

The election of the new officials will take place next Saturday, as, however, there is no opposition to the ticket, the candidates nominated last night are virtually already elected.

THE GATE CITY GUARD FAIR.

Everything Ready for the Opening Tonight—The Booths and Wares Displayed.

The Gate City Guard fair opens tonight.

Atlanta has had many fairs, but the one which the Guard inaugurates will surpass anything of the kind ever witnessed in the south.

The soldiers have been devoting all their time to the perfection of the arrangements, and nothing has been left undone which could in any way tend to the success of the enterprise. The decorations of the hall are very beautiful, and the booths have been arranged with great artistic skill.

The Guard, knowing that the people of Atlanta are interested in everything tending to the benefit of their company, has prepared for a great number of people to circulate freely without undergoing the usual discomforts of over-full halls.

Some of the most charming young ladies of the city will have charge of the booths and will also manage the rafles. It will therefore be unwise for any man to visit the fair with more money thad he can afford to contribute to the soldiers.

The donations from Atlanta and other cities have been both generous and bountiful. Some of the articles which will be raffled are of exceptional value. A $600 piano, donated by the Atlanta Piano company, will become the property of some lucky person for a very small sum. It has a solid oak case, and is pronounced by competent musicians to be a first-class instrument.

Dancing will also be one of the attractions of the fair every night from ten to twelve o'clock. The best string band in the city will furnish music for all those who care to dance.

A TRAGIC DEATH.

Little Willie Schwartz the Victim of a Terrible Accident.

There was a terrible tragedy out near the oleomargarine works Sunday morning.

Willie Schwartz, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. Charles Schwartz, a dairyman and gardener at Kirkwood, had been in the habit of jumping on East Tennessee freight trains that would pass the point where he was employed in carrying water to some garden hands.

With two companions he was standing near the track, and as the freight train passed he said that he believed he would take a ride. Suiting the action to the word, he climbed upon the cab, and from there to the top of the train. In trying to jump from one car to another the little fellow fell between the cars, and the wheels crushed through his body near the hips, cutting both legs off and mangling him terribly.

He was carried to the camp, a short distance away, where every attention was shown him, but he died in great agony at 5 o'clock.

The body was brought to Mr. H. M. Patterson's undertaking establishment yesterday morning, and a coroner's jury was summoned to investigate the case. The jury met at 2 o'clock, and found that the little boy's death was accidental and nobody was to blame.

The body was taken to Kirkwood, on the Georgia road, where the funeral will occur today.

A COURTHOUSE JANITOR.

The County Commissioners to Select a Successor to Mr. Langford.

A janitor for the county courthouse will be elected tomorrow.

The county commissioners will meet in regular monthly session, and the election of a successor to Janitor Langford, whose death caused the vacancy some weeks ago, will be one of the important tasks of the meeting.

Since Mr. Langford's death, and during his illness, his son, Charlie, has been performing the duties of the position, and it is understood that he will be one of the prominent applicants for the janitorship.

Bailiff Joe Anthony, of the superior court, is also in the race, and has been strongly indorsed by Judge Clarke and a large number of others.

In all there are in the neighborhood of twenty applicants for the position, and the election tomorrow will be watched with interest by many anxious candidates.

A Serious Charge.

Jim Hill was sent to jail yesterday morning on a serious charge.

Yesterday morning Nellie Newsome, a mulatto woman who cooks for a family at No. 120 Loyd street, reported that Jim had knocked her down and brutally misused her Sunday night.

Call Officer Walton arrested Hill and carried him before Judge Anderson and he was bound over to jail.

Hill is the same negro whose throat was cut so badly about six weeks ago, just off Peachtree street.

Heroes and Not Negroes.

From the Macon Telegraph.

By an unfortunate typographical error in the Telegraph of yesterday a sentence in the telegraphic report of Governor Gordon's Chicago speech was made to read as follows:

"To build the self-respect of our youth we must teach the boy that in his veins flows the blood of the negroes."

What General Gordon said and what the wires transmitted was as follows: "To build the self-respect of our youth we must teach the boy that in his veins flows the blood of heroes."

THE GOOD WORK THE KING'S DAUGHTERS ARE DOING.

Yesterday's Meeting and Report—What is Going on In Society—Notes and News of Interest.

The ladies composing the different bands of King's Daughters met at the hospital on Monday morning, at their usual monthly meeting. There were eight bands represented, and the report from each was very encouraging. The hospital work grows in interest, and the ladies who attend these meetings are much pleased, and pledge their renewed efforts to the good work at each meeting.

The hospital, under Miss Hunter's perfect management, is scrupulously neat, and presents a picture of comfort one could scarcely connect with a hospital. The ladies would be glad to have persons who have never connected themselves with this work visit it at any time, and they feel sure that many more would come forward and render assistance in supporting an institution that is doing so much good.

The room in which the meeting took place was the childrens' room, the neat little beds with their white coverings, the clean stained floor, the bright polished stove, tables with dainty covers, all presented a picture of comfort, and a hanging basket with its luxuriant vines added to its brightness. This room is named for one of the sweetest children Atlanta has ever been called upon to mourn, little Louise Inman, the room is known as the Louise room and is devoted entirely to children, and appeals to every mother's heart, and the little ones who now occupy it are tenderly cared for.

While many of the members come regularly to the monthly meetings, many give, and give liberally, who never come, it is the desire of the members to have each King's Daughter take a personal interest in this work and to meet the first Monday in every month at 12 o'clock at the hospital. They are urged to come and see the fruit of their labors and how happy and comfortable they have made some who were less fortunate than themselves.

During the past month some of the bands have done nobly, and all have aided very materially. Many of the bands support a cot. This is done by contributing five dollars monthly. Others send contributions.

The report of band No. 1, for last month was carpet, chair, comfort, wash tub and board. Mrs. Kapp, milk; Mrs. Knowles, oysters; Mrs. Harwood, turkey; Miss Austin, turkey; Mrs. Dickson, chicken; Mrs. Locke, grapes; Mrs. Snook, one half dozen chairs. Band No. 2, oranges, crackers, matches, and corn starch.

In this way the hospital is often supplied, but how many more could give a little of their abundance and do so much good. There are now eleven inmates, and the ladies are anxious to get in supplies for the winter months. They have decided to send around paper bags and ask the good people of Atlanta to fill them with provisions, clothing, and even old garments for rags (a very necessary article in a hospital). It is sincerely hoped that none will refuse, and that such generosity may be shown that will compel the King's Daughters to enlarge their barns and storehouses. Anything will be thankfully received, and those who wish to contribute in money should remember that it is always acceptable.

"In-as-much as ye did it unto the least of these little ones, ye did it unto me."

The german given by Mrs. Closson and the Misses Closson, at Fort McPherson, was the inauguration of the gaiety at the fort—an event looked forward to with much interest by Atlanta society. The presence in Atlanta of such delightful people as we all know army people to be, lends an additional charm to society, and the balls and receptions out at the "barracks" will be heartily appreciated events.

Of this first affair, one of the gallant officers at the request of the society editor, furnishes the following account:

Preceding the german, which began with military promptness at 11 o'clock, the guests who arrived in strings widely separate on account of the miserable inclement night, had an opportunity of strolling about the large and handsomely decorated ballroom and losing themselves among the folds of many artistically draped flags, some resplendent with the lustre of recent days and some scarred in many a hard fought battle.

Guns in racks and stacked about the room, sabres and cannon crossed upon the walls, and the bright artillery uniforms made one feel that he was indeed treading upon war-like ground. The regimental band, under the able leadership of Professor Lennig, from the time of the earliest arrival on, discoursed most delightful music and the merry whirl of the dancers was sufficient evidence of their appreciation of the strains of these sons of Mars. Refreshments were served somewhat after 10, and soon thereafter the leaders, Miss Julia Closson and Lieutenant Martin, marshaled their hosts for the fray. The figures were varied and beautiful and some of them of peculiar interest, as for instance, one entitled the "sword dance." Therein, amidst the warlike din of clashing steel, the long lines of beautiful girls were trembling by under arches of gleaming swords. The favors were many and handsome, and more than one girl will treasure for some time a very pretty one marvelously wrought of military buttons. The strange charm of the brass button is an undeniable factor from the bell button of the West Pointer to that of the infant soldier of our modern kindergarten.

Until early morn the dancing kept up, and when at last necessity compelled its close the guests left, unanimously expressing the opinion that in all respects the german was a great success.

Among those present were: Captain and Mrs. Jacobs, Miss Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, the Misses Scully, Miss Martine, the Misses Smith, Miss Happersett, Mrs. Closson, the Misses Closson, Misses Smith, Everett, Jones, Field, Greenough, [illegible] Endieman, Bullock, Chamberlin, [illegible] Major Smith, Captains Field, Greenough, [illegible] Happersett and McCaw, Lieutenants Taylor, Jones, Martin, Kenly, Walker, Everett, Bethel, and many others.

The Kirmess will be presented again tomorrow afternoon and evening, at DeGive's opera house. Within itself it is a beautiful and delightful attraction, but its presentation will be enhanced by the appearance of Professor Denke, the well known and superb pianist. Professor Denke last night, informed Professor Agostini that he would assist him with his musical ability.

Upon next Wednesday afternoon Miss Clemmie Mayer will be married to Mr. Samuel Pinkusshon at the residence of her father, Mr. David Mayer. The wedding will be the occasion of a great family reunion as Mr. Mayer's sons and their families from a distance will be present and there will be eighteen grandchildren to witness the marriage of their lovely young aunt.

Miss Ella Powell leaves today for New York, where she will spend the winter cultivating her charming voice. Miss Powell is one of the most brilliant and delightful young ladies in Atlanta, and her absences are always sincerely regretted by the many friends to whom she gives with her music and other talents so much social pleasure.

The entertainment under the auspices of the King's Daughters, to be given at Mrs. Brown's on Courtland avenue, next Wednesday evening will be in every respect a most delightful one. [illegible] Armstrong will favor the occasion with several of his most celebrated recitations, and some of the best musical talent in the city will contribute the vocal and instrumental selections.

On Wednesday, 4th inst., Mr. B. L. Farnum [illegible] will wed the beautiful Miss Lilly [illegible] bert. Mr. Farnum is one of the [illegible] most popular drummers on the road [illegible] Macon, and the young lady, [illegible] is accomplished and winning in manner.

Miss Mittie Jones, after a [illegible] visit of four months to New York and [illegible] cities, sailed, in company with Dr. [illegible] wife, on the steamer City of Birmingham [illegible] morning, for Atlanta, via Savannah [illegible] arrive home in a few days.

The Cadets at Moreland Park [illegible] give their annual hop upon the [illegible] and of course it will be a delightful [illegible] music, lovely decorations, and the [illegible] of young military men in Georgia [illegible] their guests.

Mr. David G. Wylie has returned [illegible] to his children in Arkansas.

A Grand Old Man.

From the Quitman Press.

Major Wallace stands in the forefront [illegible] Georgia's wise and patriotic citizens. As the president of the Georgia railroad commission he stood between the people and the oppression of corporations, which was weighing heavily upon them prior to the organization of the railroad commission. And, too, he has stood between the [illegible] the legislature, when a large number [illegible] were clamoring for a bill which would have seriously injured the prosperity of the state, without benefitting any class of citizens. We allude to the [illegible] bill.

Long may this grand old gentleman live [illegible] his people, and to illustrate the [illegible] otism and the wisdom of our [illegible] wealth.

THE GENERAL COUNCIL

CONVENES IN REGULAR SEMI-MONTHLY SESSION.

Five Members of the Board of Education Elected—The Horse Cars Changing to Electricity—Preparing for the Election.

Mr. Thompson, the senior member from the fifth ward, was the only absentee when Mayor Pro Tem Hemphill called the general council to order yesterday afternoon.

The session was a long and lively one.

The first paper upon which Clerk Woodward placed his fingers was one of Mayor Glenn's vetoes. The general council had remitted a ten dollar fine imposed by the judge of police court upon J. E. Chastain, and the mayor vetoed it because the money had passed out of the hands of the police department.

Attached to the veto was another paper from the mayor. It was relative to the bond of the treasurer of the board of education. It read:

To the Members of the General Council: The Hon. David Mayer was elected treasurer of the board of education at its last meeting and came to my office prepared to give a bond, such as treasurer is required to do by section 659 of the city code. To my astonishment, I cannot find any evidence of a bond having been required from the treasurer of that board heretofore, and I am informed that the council has never taken any action fixing the amount of the bond. This officer has in his possession at times as much as $10,000 of the city money and I recommend that you pass an ordinance fixing the amount of the bond at that sum to be taken and approved by the mayor. Respectfully submitted,
JOHN T. GLENN, Mayor.

"I have here an ordinance," said Mr. Haas, "I desire to introduce. It pertains to that same thing."

The ordinance requires the treasurer of the board of education to give a $10,000 bond, conditional upon the faithful performance of his duties as such treasurer.

It was read the second time and adopted.

New Members of the Board.

"Here is a communication from Major Slaton, superintendent of the public schools," said the clerk.

The paper showed that the terms of Dr. E. J. Roach and Mr. Blanchard of the first ward, Hon. Antoine Kontz, of the fifth ward, Captain R. J. Lowry, of the sixth ward, would expire this year.

"I move then," said Mr. Middlebrooks," that we go into an election to fill the vacancies, and at the same time elect the three new members from the city at large."

The motion prevailed, and Mayor Glenn took the chair, the charter requiring him to preside during elections by the council.

"I move," said Mr. Middlebrooks, again securing the floor, "that we elect from the wards first and then the city at large."

The motion was carried, and Mr. Stephens nominated Dr. E. J. Roach from the first ward. He was elected without opposition.

Mr. Woodward nominated Hon. Antoine Kontz from the fifth. The clerk began the call of the roll as Mr. Kontz arose. The mayor, however, would not recognize the gentleman until the call had been completed. Then he said:

"Mr. Koutz has been unanimously elected. I did not recognize the gentleman when he arose because I thought he might want to decline."

From the City at Large.

"Now, I move that we elect from the city at large," said Mr. Howell, "and that we elect one at a time."

Mr. Hutchison wanted to elect all three on the same roll call.

"The one receiving the most votes to have the longest term," said Mayor Glenn.

"That's it," said Mr. Hutchison.

Mr. Hutchison's plan was adopted, and Mayor Glenn asked for nominations.

Mr. Howell nominated Captain R. J. Lowry.

Mr. Stephens nominated Mr. G. H. Tanner.

Mr. Haas nominated Hon. N. J. Hammond.

Mr. Hutchison nominated Mr. Henry W. Grady.

Mr. Howell nominated Captain J. W. English.

The vote was:

R. J. Lowry, 15.
H. W. Grady, 15.
J. W. English, 11.
G. H. Tanner, 8.
N. J. Hammond, 5.

"I have the pleasure to announce," said the mayor, "the election of Captain Lowry, Mr. Grady and Captain English as members of the board of education."

"But there's a tie," said Mr. Haas. "Mr. Lowry and Mr. Grady have the same vote. So you must cast the deciding one so as to determine who serves six years."

Mayor Glenn hesitated a minute and then said:

"I vote for Captain Lowry, then. Mr. Grady would do the same thing. Captain Lowry has been elected for six years, Mr. Grady for four years and Captain English for two years."

Ladies on the Board.

"A resolution, your honor, touching this matter," said Mr. Moran.

The paper was handed to the clerk for a reading and was:

Be it ordained by the mayor and general council of Atlanta that there shall be elected three additional members of the board of education who shall be ladies, to serve for the terms of six, four and two years, thereafter to be elected for six years.

"Now," said Mr. Moran, "I desire to have that paper referred to the committee on public schools. I want that committee to give it a careful investigation and report to this body at our next meeting. Our public schools engage 130 ladies and nine gentlemen, and yet there is not a lady on the board of education. There is no one to whom they can talk freely on certain matters. Several eastern cities have tried it, and it is a success. In New York the mayor has just reappointed two ladies."

The ordinance was referred to the committee on public schools.

Election Manager Elected.

Mr. Middlebrooks introduced a resolution declaring a vacancy in the board of election managers in the sixth ward, occasioned by the removal of R. H. Norris from the ward.

Hon. James F. O'Neill was nominated for the place and was elected. As the roll call reached Mr. Haas he answered:

"Ditto."

"There's no such candidate," remarked the mayor.

Mr. Haas's vote was recorded for Mr. O'Neill.

Where to Vote.

The voting places for the election tomorrow were fixed by an ordinance introduced by Mr. Middlebrooks. They are:

First ward—corner Broad and Mitchell streets.

Second ward—chamber of commerce building.

Third ward—corner Hunter and Butler streets.

Fourth ward—corner Decatur and Moore streets.

Fifth ward—junction of Marietta and Walton streets.

Sixth ward—No. 19 South Pryor street.

Liquor Petitions.

Of T. G. Willingham, at 22 Broad street.

Of D. O. Martin, beer at 482 Decatur street.

William A. Benton petitioned for the position of city electrician.

Clarence Knowles and others asked to have Ponce de Leon avenue worked. Street committee.

The Salary Unchanged.

Mr. Moran, chairman of the salary committee, submitted a a report making the salary of the assistant tax assessor $100 a month.

It was referred to the finance committee.

"I have here another report," said Mr. Moran, holding up a paper. "It is an adverse report upon Mr. Amorous's resolution to make the salary of the members of council $500. The pay now is $200, and we meet about twenty-five times each year. That gives us $8 a day compensation, twice as much as the members of the general assembly get. The members of that body are gentlemen whose entire time is taken during the session, while we are not kept busy long. If we start on this, where will it end?"

"I am a member of that committee," said Mr. Robbins, "and I desire to submit an adverse report. I think we should pay the men in some degree for their work, and I do know some of them don't get the pay they should have."

"We have competent men in all departments of the city government," said Mr. Moran, "and they do good work. Take the city engineer, and the commissioner of public works. They are well paid and know their work. Some of the officers we have are drawing more money than they could make in civil life. All of them, save the council members, work."

"I agree with Mr. Moran," said Mr. Kontz. "A $1,000 salary wouldn't give us better work than we get for $200. That about pays our incidental expenses. If we make the salary big, it will cause a scramble for the office, and good workers will be shut out."

Mr. Haas favored the majority report.

"It is not necessary for me to say," said Mr. Mecaslin, "what I think of it, because I go out this month."

Mr. Middlebrooks thought the pay at $200 too small.

"I think the pay should be bigger," said Mr. Amorous. "I know some men in here who are worth $2,000 a year."

The minority report was lost, Mr. Meador, Mr. Robbins and Mr. Amorous alone voting for it.

"This is a delicate question for me" said Mr. Woodward "because I come back. But the salary is too small for the work done. Some of the committees have to put in too much time. The pay is so small that it keeps good men out. I know of one gentleman who has been tendered chairs in this body from the mayor down and won't accept because he can't spare the time."

"I think Mr. Woodward's work is worth more than the pay," said Mr. Inman, "while mine and Amorous' is worth less."

Mr. Meador moved to amend the majority report by substituting $300 for $200.

On the amendment the vote was:

Ayes—Meador, Robbins, Morris, Amorous—4.

Nays—Stephens, Moran, McLendon, Koutz, Inman—5.

The majority report was adopted.

The Electric Lines.

The street committee submitted a lengthy report upon the petition of the Union street railroad company to change to electric motor power. The report says:

Your committee on streets beg to make a favorable report on the petition of the Union Street Car company, embracing the Atlanta and West End, the Atlanta street railroad and the Gate City street railroad lines, conditioned upon the city of Atlanta preserving the right to pass such ordinances for the government and construction of the same by the mayor and general council as will best subserve the public safety as to life and property and convenience and comfort; also, reserves the right to prescribe by ordinance how other lines shall have the right to pass over any part of the above named lines (not to exceed 1,200 feet) on streets or parts of streets where, in the judgment of the general council, it will best insure to the public good to condemn and equitably pay for the same; also reserves the right to pass upon the material and mode of construction, and should any part of any of the above lines prove to be dangerous or not properly constructed, the same shall be remedied by the company immediately after being notified and if not done in reasonable time the city authorities shall have the right to refuse to allow any current of electricity to be turned on until the defect (whatever it may be) is removed. In all cases where new rails are to be used, either on the main line or turnouts, the Johnson or a similar side-bearing rail shall be used, subject to the inspection of the street committee and the city engineer. The city also reserves the right to say to what extent iron poles shall be used.

The same permission, in the same words, was granted the Metropolitan line.

Dispensing Religion.

Rev. Frank Joseph's report of ministerial work at the prisons was read. It indicated an expense account of $4, and Mr. Hirsch moved that the bill be paid.

A Liquor Petition.

The police committee handed in its report upon the petition of W. B. Harvey for the transfer of his retail liquor license from 130 to 320 Decatur street, and upon it they made a favorable report, provided the petition is found to be legal on examination by the city attorney.

"That might make the city liable in some way," said Mr. Middlebrooks.

Mr. Haas suggested that the petition be sent to the city attorney, and it was done.

"Here is a petition," said Mr. Meador, "from A. W. Hill and others for the readoption of an ordinance forbidding grazing cattle on vacant property."

The ordinance was read, and was the same presented by Mr. Thompson several months ago.

"I favor protection," said Mr. Woodward, "but I think that is going too far, it is too arbitrary, I think we should protect a man's property, but not put so much power in a man who owns a lot."

"I move to table the ordinance presented," said Mr. Mecaslin.

Mr. Haas called for the ayes and nays, and the call resulted:

Ayes—Mecaslin, Howell, Hutchison, Stevens, Hirsch, Moran, Robbins, Morris, Amorous—9.

Nays—Haas, Middlebrooks, Meador, Woodward, McLendon, Koutz, Inman—7.

The same committee called the council's attention to the new police telegraph system, but without a report.

"What's the cost?" asked Mr. Haas.

"Seven thousand dollars, about," answered Mr. Meador.

"I move," said Mr. Haas, "that the paper be referred to the police and finance committee of next year's council."

It was done.

"I have here a resolution," said Mr. Middlebrooks, "authorizing the tax assessors to purchase a horse and buggy for $300 to work in."

"Better hire one," said Mr. Inman. "It is cheaper."

"I think the street cars good enough for the assessors, and I move to table that," said Mr. McLendon.

It was tabled.

Mr. Howell moved to reconsider the action of the general council in fixing the taxes of the telephone exchange. Said he:

"The company does not object to the amount of the taxes, but the manner. They are willing to pay an ad valorem tax or almost any other kind. But do not like to be assessed a dollar on each 'phone, because next year it may be made two or three dollars."

"They should not object to that," said Mr. Haas. "The state charges a dollar each, and by the same process of reasoning it might be raised to two dollars."

"I am opposed to any change," said Mr. Middlebrooks. "That company has an income here of over $60,000. It uses our streets with its poles and wires and then objects to paying its tax."

The motion to reconsider prevailed, and the whole question was recommitted to the tax committee and the city attorney.

The council then adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon to consider an ordinance for paving Courtland street.

GONE GLIMMERING.

The Female Baseball Club Disbands and the Girls Will Leave Today.

The Ladies' Champion Baseball club is no more.

It died a painful and unnatural death yesterday.

The struggle was long—it lasted more than a week, but at last the club struck out, and today the members will hit the grit for other fields. Some will go to Chicago, the starting place, and the remainder will go to New Orleans. Several may remain in Atlanta if they can secure positions.

Yesterday morning the club moved its headquarters from the Whitehall hotel to the European, and there the separation will be made today. The captain and catcher, Miss May Howard and Miss Emma Howard will return to Chicago, where they will remain till the opening of next season.

The club is not exactly bankrupt, but its finances are very limited. The girls say they have money enough of their own, saved from their salaries, to take them home, but that is about all. They are thoroughly sour on Atlanta, and say they will steer clear of it if they ever go on the road again.

It was decided that the club should hold together until today in hopes of hearing from Manager Franklin, who has another club on the road—the Philadelphia Female Baseball club—and who, they say, will be very much surprised when he learns of their break-up. If he should show up in time the club will yet stick together, but the girls have about despaired of his appearance, and are making arrangements to look out for number one.

Last night the club gave a benefit ball at Adamson's hall. The male attendance was large, but nine girl couldn't do all the dancing, and the ball broke up before eleven o'clock. Several toughs got a little boisterous, but the police gathered them in before they did any damage.

At the close of the ball the club marched in a body, in charge of Assistant Manager Benson, to the European, and, as the the theater was out just as they came up Marietta street, they attracted quite a crowd.

FROM OUR NOTEBOOK.

Items of Interest Picked Up by Constitution Reporters.

A Valuable Cap.—Saturday night Mr. J. L. Pennington, who lives at 657 Marietta street, found a fine Scotch cap at the intersection of Marietta street and Mason & Turner's ferry road. It must have cost a considerable amount, as it is made up in the very handsomest style. Mr. Pennington has been considerably puzzled to know who could have been the owner of such a piece of headgear, which is unlike anything worn on the streets of Atlanta.

BOY BURGLARS

AND GAMBLERS OCCUPY THE ATTENTION OF THE COURTS YESTERDAY.

A Successful Safe Robbery With Well Laid Plans to Burglarize a Hardware Store Confessed in Open Court.

Boy burglars and gamblers!

They were the leading attractions in the courts yesterday.

But probably the most remarkable case on record in the Georgia courts will not come up until today in the criminal branch of the superior court.

It is that against Julius Bone, Ed McCune, Al McClay and Cliff Farris for burglary. No one of the quartette is fifteen years of age, and yet all have figured in police circles on similar charges a half dozen times or more. They are experts at the business, but have so far escaped the penalty of their crime on account of their extreme youthfulness. The quartette was before Judge Clark at the last term of court, on a charge of burglary. Their ages saved them and they were turned loose, but it was not three weeks before they were arrested again.

The burglary for which the boys are to be tried today is one of the cleverest ever committed in Atlanta. Its planning and execution would have been a credit to veterans in the business, much less to a pair of youngsters scarcely in their teens.

Last Saturday a week ago Julius Bone and Al McClay, so the accusation states, stole a lot of sacks from the elevator. These they carried to Mr. H. A. Boynton on Alabama street to sell. Mr. Boynton, of course, not suspecting that the sacks had been stolen, bought them. While he was in the act of opening his safe to get the money, the boys were at his side taking in the combination. They went back to Mr. Boynton a second time, to make sure they had made no mistake in the combination of the safe, to learn which they had used the stolen sacks as a blind.

On Sunday afternoon the two boys broke into Mr. Boynton's store from the rear, entering by the alley that passes by the side of police headquarters, they quietly walked up to the safe, and without any trouble unlocked the combination. Forty dollars in money was secured, and the youthful burglars got away without being suspected.

The burglary was discovered Sunday afternoon by Mr. Boynton, and the police were at once notified. Monday Detective Cason located the gang on Marietta street, in a room, where they were enjoying their booty in smoking and drinking. They were taken before Judge Pat Owens, who bound them over to the superior court.

During the preliminary trial before Judge Owens Al McClay confessed the whole scheme, telling how he stole the sacks, and how he learned the safe combination. He said he could open it again, and in company with Detective Cason, was taken to Mr. Boynton's store, where he again worked the combination, without the least trouble.

Another startling part of the confession was the disclosure of a similar plot laid for the robbing of the safe in Vittur's hardware store, on Whitehall street.

The boys had arranged everything and were to be assisted by a couple of negro men. Sunday night was the time set for the burglary, just after that at Mr. Boynton's store, but the discovery of the first before the second could be committed frightened the burglars off, and they concluded to let the hardware store rest awhile. They didn't expect the Boynton robbery would be discovered until Monday morning, when the other would have been completed.

The case is down for today, and it is more than likely that the boy burglars will not get off as easily as heretofore.

Will McCune, a brother to Ed McCune, who is to be tried today, was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary, for burglary, but is again back in jail awaiting trial by the city court for larceny. He was arrested only a short while after he was released from the penitentiary.

Boy Gamblers.

The feature of the city court yesterday was the trial of Bud Wilson and Will Timbler, charged with gambling.

Wilson and Timbler are mere boys, neither being more than fifteen, and the principal witnesses against them were boys. A little white boy named Schultz was one of the youngest of the witnesses. He could not have been more than ten or eleven, wearing the regulation knee pants usually worn by children.

He was sharp though, and not once did he contradict himself under cross-examination.

The evidence was that the negro boys, together with ten or a dozen companions, had been engaged in a friendly game of "craps" out in the neighborhood of the Atlanta university. The game was conducted in the corner of a wire fence, and, as a witness put it, "the limit was anywhere from five to twenty-five cents."

On the stand the defendants said they were "jest out huntin' 'simmons an' sot down in de cornah to res'."

A verdict will be rendered this morning.

In the Courts.

All the courts were in session yesterday—the city, and both branches of the superior.

The city court has been in recess for the past week, and the criminal superior meets in regular December term, before Judge Richard H. Clark.

No cases were tried in the criminal superior court yesterday, though a number were called. At each call the various defendants entered pleas for further time to complete their cases, and Judge Clark, being himself indisposed, dismissed the docket until this morning, when the regular order of business will be taken up.

HE WAS CRAZY.

Pony Bowden Threatens to Kill His Mother and Sisters.

Pony Bowden was arrested by Patrolman Ball yesterday morning.

Bowden has been an invalid all his life, and is subject to convulsions. He was sent to the asylum some time ago, but was discharged as harmless.

Since that time he has been residing with his mother and sisters, on Hunter street, below Forsyth.

About three weeks ago he began to show symptoms of violence, and yesterday morning grew so bad that the family became alarmed. He raved about the room, threatening to kill his mother and sisters, until they called for the police.

Patrolman Ball had a hard struggle with the mad man, but finally obtained the assistance of Patrolman McCullough, and the two overpowered and bound him. He was carried to the stationhouse and locked up, and will be tried on a writ of lunacy today.

Young Bowden is nineteen years old, and is very strong. He gave the police all they could do to manage him.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

A Young Lady Badly Burned Saturday Morning on Spring Street.

Miss Maggie May Ellis, the eldest daughter of Mr. James Ellis, was badly burned Saturday morning at her father's residence, No. 286 Spring street.

Miss Ellis is only thirteen years of age, and has been one of the brightest pupils at Miss McKinley's school, on West Peachtree street.

Of late her health has been rather delicate, and she has been taking medicine. When she went to breakfast she forgot to take her medicine. Her mother called her attention to it, and she ran into another room to get it. While pouring the medicine from the bottle she stood too near the grate, and her dress caught fire.

The flames flashed all over her clothing in an instant, and she ran out doors, crying for help. Mrs. Ellis grabbed a quilt, and the cook a bucket of water. Mrs. Ellis wrapped the quilt about the burning child, and the cook threw water on her. Together they succeeded in putting the fire out, but Mrs. Ellis burned her hands very severely while trying to save her daughter. Mrs. Ellis's injuries are considered very seriously if not fatal, and Mrs. Ellis's hands are very badly hurt.

The accident is a very sad one, and the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis join in sympathizing with them in their distress. Mr. Ellis is employed at Mr. Frank E. Block's, and has many friends in the city.

Catarrh is caused by impure blood, and is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood and gives the whole system health and strength. Try this "peculiar medicine."

SANTA CLAUS'S

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas days, with its joys and pleasure, are upon us, and visions of plum pudding, turkey and toys fill the mind of the small boy. The mammas and papas are telling the same old Santa Claus stories to the children, who all listen with bated breath. Oh, what joy and pleasure to see those innocent faces, and how good the children are just before Santa Claus's coming; for if bad, Santa might not bring half that's wanted. But for your cakes and puddings, your mince, etc., you must have the best citron and currants. This year we have the finest Six Crown Table Cluster raisins we have had since we commenced business. Two years ago Double Crown London Layer raisins were the best that were sold upon the market, and were always spoken of as "the best." They are regarded now by some dealers as the best. Each crown represents a quality, and our Fancy Cluster Five and Six Crown goods are three times as fine as represented as Double Crown. Our citron this year is extra quality—the best we could find in the New York market. Remember, ours is the only house that was represented in person in New York this fall, and who selected their entire stock from the best. We have the best raisins, best prunes, largest fancy quality figs, best currants and beautiful, large, bright lemon and orange peel. Our fresh nuts have all arrived, and, as we are the leaders, it becomes us to set the price, which we will do upon application. We have just received heavy invoices of all kinds of holiday goods, such as plum puddings, fancy jar pure mince meat, dates of the finest quality and all kinds of absolutely pure spices for your Christmas cakes. Be sure you buy your nuts, raisins, currants and citron for your cakes from us. You will not only get the best and freshest, but save money. You are paying 40 cents for your citron; we only charge 30. You pay 30 and 35 per pound for your nuts; we only charge—well, come and see. We have preserves of all kinds; we have dried raspberries, fancy large bulk olives and any delicacy for the holidays you want. For Santa Claus we have all kinds of fireworks for the boys. Now is the time to bake your cake.

The First in the South.

Ladies visiting Atlanta are invited to call and consult, if needed, Atlanta's most eminent female physician, Mrs. Rosa F. Monnish, M. D., the first and only female physician in her specialty south. She occupies with her husband, Dr. W. A. Monnish, the elegant three-story building at the junction of Peachtree, North Forsyth and Church streets, erected for her special use. Ladies' reception rooms, office and dispensary situated on first floor, while the two upper stories are used for a sanitarium. All modern conveniences, hot and cold water, gas, electric calls, etc., in every room; in fact, acknowledged the handsomest and best appointed sanitarium, enjoying the most liberal patronage of the ladies south. This sanitarium is not to be compared with other institutions or sanitariums, as the sanitarium and dispensary of Mrs. Dr. Monnish is for ladies only, and therefore strictly private. All patients remaining in the sanitarium receive separate rooms and enjoy the privileges and comforts of a first class home.

Connected with the sanitarium, but in a separate building, is a lying-in home for ladies who wish to be strictly private during confinement, where they will receive the best of attention compatible with their comfort and health.—adv dtf

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, December 2.—The stock market was again very active today, but while it was weak in the first hour, there was full recovery and decidedly strong tone toward the close, which left prices generally slightly higher than those of Saturday. The panicky feeling among smaller holders, especially, was continued into this morning, and although London failed to respond to the lugubrious advices sent there since Friday morning, the opening figures were invariably lower, in specialties in particular, declines were very marked, extending to nearly three per cent. London was a liberal purchaser of stocks throughout the day, an estimate of the amount taken ranging up to 75,000 shares, which buying was a material factor in the rally which occurred. The announcement of the withdrawal of the deposits in the bank did considerable to demoralize the market at the outset and the close working of the local market for all loans, as high as twenty per cent being paid for accommodations during the day, helped to check the improving tendency, when it had once started. Gould stocks were well supported, and the presence of Gould upon the street gave rise to the belief that he was under the market, which turned many of the traders over to the bull side, and they were found working for a rally during the remainder of the day.

The market finally closed active and strong generally, at the best prices of the day. Final changes are irregular and generally for fractional amounts, but advances are more numerous and gas trusts show a rise of 2⅝ and Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus and St. Louis 1¼, while Tennessee coal, notwithstanding the material improvement over the lowest, is still 3½ per cent lower and sugar 1⅛ and Reading 1 per cent. Total sales aggregated 495,000 shares.

Exchange quiet and weaker at 481@485½. Money tight at 6@20, closing at 10 bid. Subtreasury balances: Coin $158,727,000; currency, $8,361,000. Governments dull but steady: 4s 127; 4½s 104¾. State bonds dull and featureless.

Henry Clews & Co.'s Cotton Circular.

NEW YORK, December 2.—[Special.]—The religious influences of a glorious Sunday did not increase the ambition or the wiry tactics of the bull element, as their ammunition was only used at the opening call. Then came a disappointing dispatch from Liverpool, as it was generally expected that Liverpool would lend considerable aid in the direction of higher prices by a firm and substantial advance. However, this was not the case, and in consequence the bulls threw over a considerable lot of cotton, and a decline of 5@6 points was soon established, followed by free selling on the part of the bears. This weakness continued until an additional decline of 3 points occurred, when a little support was tendered, causing a steadier feeling to exist with an improvement of 1@2 points from the lowest prices. The export demand is continued fabulously large, as the foreigners added to their holdings today 70,889 bales. This alone stimulates the situation to a certain extent, and inspires some confidence that would not exist otherwise. The closing prices are fairly steady. The southern markets are unchanged in prices and active, with the exception of Charleston, which is 1-16c off. Receipts up to date show an increase of 500,000 bales as compared to last year. The weather is generally favorable to the movement of the growing crop.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, December 2—Wheat—A fair trade, but good deal of it was in the way of transferring December into May. Under these operations the difference between December and May was widened to 5¼@5½c. The opening was rather weaker, especially for December, which declined ⅝c, while May receded only ¼c, but later recovered, December advancing ⅞c and May ⅜c, and closing ⅛c lower for December and ⅛c higher for May than the closing quotations of Saturday. The weakness in December was attributed to rather free deliveries, fully 1,000,000 bushels, and some claim 1,250,000 bushels having been delivered on December contracts. There was a pretty fair inquiry for December, and May also showed some strength. Cables were generally firm. The reported taking of 12 loads late Saturday afternoon in New York for Lisbon had a strengthening effect, as did also prospects of a smaller increase in the visible supply than had been expected. Receipts in the northwest were quite heavy again. The visible supply showed an increase of 1,345,500 bushels, but was rather late in being posted, though operators had a pretty fair idea of what it would be long before. The principal increases were at Baltimore, Buffalo, Chicago, Detroit, Duluth, Minneapolis and afloat at New York. The decreases were mainly at Boston, Indianapolis, Montreal, New York, Philadelphia, Toledo and on the lakes and canals.

Corn—A moderate business, most of which was within ⅜c range. The feeling early was comparatively firm, few buying orders being on the market, and on the filling of the same, together with purchases of December and January, mostly the latter by a prominent local trader, prices advanced ⅛c. The market then declined ⅛@¼c, ruled steady and closed ⅛@¼c better than Saturday.

Oats steady with a moderate volume of trading in May, but very little in near futures.

Mess pork—A fair trade and feeling easy; declined 5@7½c, but rallied again and closed steady.

Lard dull and easy. Prices without material change.

Short ribs—A comparatively light trade without material change in prices.

IN RAILROAD CIRCLES.

THE SOUTHERN PASSENGER ASSOCIATION MEETS HERE TODAY.

The Rate Committee of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association Meets Tomorrow to Fix Rates for the New Year.

The annual meeting of the Southern Passenger association will be held in Atlanta today.

Twenty-two general passenger agents, representing as many roads in the south, are expected to be present.

The meeting will be held in the association rooms, third floor of the chamber of commerce.

The principal business will be the election of officers for the ensuing year. The present officers are:

Commissioner, Colonel Thomas H. Carter.

Assistant commissioner, Mr. Mercer Slaughter.

Secretary, Mr. George W. Jones.

Auditing committee, Messrs. B. W. Wrenn, E. T. Charlton and C. A. Taylor.

It is thought that these officers will be re-elected without opposition.

There is no special business beyond the election of officers, and the business of the meeting will probably be finished today.

Tomorrow the rate committee of the Southern Railway and Steamship association will meet in the chamber of commerce.

There are fifteen members of the committee.

The meeting was called by Commissioner Carter to adjust rates and classificattons to go into effect on the 1st of January.

Quite a bulk of this work is to be done, and the meeting generally is an important one.

General Manager Gabbett, of the Central; President Phinizy, of the Georgia and Atlanta and West Point, left Atlanta yesterday on a special train with General Manager Tyler for a tour over the line of road of which Mr. Tyler takes charge.

Mr. Tyler's appointment dated from December first as general manager of the West Point and of the Western of Alabama.

Mr. W. S. Upshaw, of Covington, was appointed yesterday special agent of the Richmond and Danville system. His duties are with the Georgia Pacific division.

Mr. Upshaw is one of the brightest young lawyers in the state, and the appointment is a flattering recognition of his worth. He graduated from Athens in '86, and his success in the practice of law since has been remarkable for so young a man.

His office will be with Jackson & Jackson, in the Gate City bank building, and his home Atlanta.

Mr. Rob Cowardin, traveling passenger agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, headquarters at Little Rock, was in Atlanta yesterday.

Major Berkeley, superintendent of the Atlanta and Charlotte division of the Air-Line, was back in his office yesterday, after a week's absence from illness.

Mr. S. C. Ray, the newly appointed traveling passenger agent for the southeast division of the Queen and Crescent, was in Atlanta yesterday.

Railroad Notes.

Comptroller-General Wright was obliged to notify the East and West road of Alabama yesterday that they would have to pay three times the amount of their taxes for 1888, owing to their negligence in not sending in the amount due the state before the first of October. When the East and West road sent in their returns for 1888, they were so low that Comptroller Wright refused to accept them. According to the law, Governor Gordon appointed a commission of three to assess the road. The taxes to be paid were fixed at something over seven hundred dollars, and no appeal was taken by the road. When the time for paying the money had expired a petition was laid before the legislature, praying release from the penalty incurred by the negligence. The legislature refused to grant the petition, and therefore a sum amounting to nearly $2,100 is required by the state.

Every railroad in Georgia was notified yesterday by Comptroller General Wright that a tax would in future be required for all sleeping cars run over their tracks other than those owned by the road using them. This was done in accordance with the act of the last legislature, which amended paragraph 10 of section 10 of the tax act approved December 26th, 1888, so as to require each road to pay a special tax as follows: For railroads of over fifty and less than one hundred miles, $100; for every fifty miles over a hundred miles an extra $50 must be paid up to 250 miles; all roads exceeding that length being obliged to pay $300 a year.

Pimples, Sores, Aches and Pains.

When a hundred bottles of sarsaparilla or other pretentious specifics fail to eradicate in-born scrofula or contagious blood poison, remember that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) has gained many thousand victories, in as many seemingly incurable instances. Send to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., fo "Book of Wonders," and be convinced. It is the only true blood purifier.

G. W. Messer, Howell's X Roads, Ga., writes: "I was afflicted nine years with sores. All the medicine I could take did me no good. I then tried B. B. B., and 8 bottles cured me sound."

Mrs. S. M. Wilson, Round Mountain, Tex., writes: "A lady friend of mine, was troubled with bumps and pimples on her face and neck. She took three bottles of B. B. B., and her skin got soft and smooth, pimples disappeared, and her health improved greatly."

Jas. L. Bosworth, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "Some years ago I contracted blood poison. I had no appetite, my digestion was ruined, rheumatism drew up my limbs so I could hardly walk, my throat was cauterized five times. Hot Springs gave me no benefit, and my life was one of torture until I gave B. B. B. a trial, and, surprising as it may seem, the use of five bottles cured me." 1w

Sick headache is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which tones and regulates the digestion, and creates an appetite.

Angostura Bitters cures colic, fever and ague and indigestion. The genuine manufactured only by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons. All druggists keep them.

We Regard Mrs. Winslow's Soothing SYRUP as invaluable for the purposes for which it is designed, and would have it if its price were double what it now is. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positivelycure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.

Mr. J. J. Duffy, the Live Peachtree Street Grocer, and H s Wonderful Flour Receive a Compliment.

Mr. J. J. Duffy offered $25 in cash for the best loaf of bread at the Piedmont exposition made of his flour. There were many contestants for this prize. It is safe to say that they all deserved a medal. The fact that the flour handled by Mr. Duffy is among the best sold in any market, is in itself a guarantee of the excellency of the bread made by the various parties who contested. One of the largest and best candy and crackermakers said: "The bread exhibited at the exposition made out of the flour handled by Duffy is something above the ordinary. It is simply beyond the reach of competitors. I do not think I ever in my life saw as fine bread. All the contestants made fine bread, which must be due in part to the superior quality of this flour. I have been using the flour for some time and know it is the best I have had in the house. I am proud of the success that Mr. Duffy is making in this direction."

This sentiment is the exponent of the opinion of the people generally. The flour Mr. Duffy handles and guarantees is of the best quality, and those who desire to obtain this flour can do so by calling upon him at his store.

In addition to this flour Mr. Duffy handles the very best line of groceries of all kinds. His store is a perfect panorama of the delicacies of the season. Having been in the business for a number of years he is well and favorably known, and the people are aware that when he represents his goods to be so and so they are just that way. If you would like something really good, something above the average, call at Duffy's, the popular Peachtree street grocer, and you will not fail to find it. ft

The New York Ledger contains the first of Mr. H. W. Grady's letters on "The South." Everybody in Georgia should read it. You can get it of John M. Miller, Opera House Bookstore.

An Interesting Thought!

200,000.
200,000 Organs.
200,000 Estey Organs.

200,000 Estey Organs have been manufactured. Think of it. Try and realize what it means. It is one organ finished every week since Noah built the ark.

Do you suppose it would be possible, with a sufficient number of men, to build a fine Reed Organ all complete in seven hours? No doubt it would, but it would certainly require a large force of skilled men to do it. Now, if the Estey Organ company had taken so long a time as seven hours they would have had to begun before Columbus discovered America in order to complete 200,000 organs in 1888.

They have actually been building their famous Reed Organs forty years, averaging about one organ in thirty-five minutes. And not building them only. They have sold them.

No other organ can show such sales. What does it prove? Simply that the ESTEY Organ is the favorite, that it is the best value for the money invested, that it has been the choice with the majority of persons who have purchased organs.

You can't make any mistake in choosing an ESTEY, for the great majority is with you.

Go to the ESTEY Organ Co.'s ware-rooms, corner Marietta and Broad streets, Atlanta, Ga., and you can be suited in price and terms. sept 18—tf

LIFE'S HISTORY;

Its Smiles and Tears. Such is the course of life, made up of sunshine and gloom, gladness and sorrow, riches and poverty, health and disease. We may dispel the gloom, banish the sorrow and gain riches; but sickness will overtake us, sooner or later. Yet, happily, that enemy can be vanquished; pains and aches can be relieved; there is a balm for every wound, and science has placed it within the reach of all. There is no discovery that has proven so great a blessing as Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills. IDA BERRY'S ROMANCE.

AFTER MANY YEARS SHE FINDS HER PARENTS AND RETURNS TO THEM.

By a Strange Piece of Good Fortune the Family Come Into Possession of Quite a Snug Fortune Just at the Time She Returns.

Miss Ida Berry has found her parents.

After living in ignorance of their existence for ten years or more, by accident she learned that she was not Ida Berry, but that her parents were prominent Savannah people; and a few days ago she returned to them, and is now living in a happy home surrounded by every comfort.

Public interest was first attracted to the girl last spring, when she left her home and went to police headquarters to secure her clothes from her foster mother, Mrs. Berry. She had been living with Mrs. Berry for many years, and supposed that the latter was her real mother. But the two had a disagreement, and then the girl found out that she was not Mrs. Berry's child.

The case got into the courts, the girl was sent to the Home for the Friendless, and Mrs. Berry sued out a writ of habeas corpus for her after she had became an inmate of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams. Ordinary Calhoun decided in favor of the girl, and she elected to go and live with Mr. William's family, and he was appointed guardian for Miss. Berry.

A MYSTERIOUS DOCTOR.

During the progress of the trial a Savannah physician wrote to the authorities that he knew who were her parents, and that if she desired to find them he would undertake to assist her. This was all that he wrote, and Miss Berry remained with the Williams family for six or eight months.

The story of her life was a strange one. She had been taken from Savannah during the yellow fever epidemic, some ten years ago, by Mrs. Berry, who was then a resident of that city. Mrs. Berry, for some reason, obtained a burial certificate of another child that had died about that time, and sent it to the parents of the little girl, with the explanation that the child was dead and buried. From that time forward they mourned her as dead, and she remained with Mrs. Berry in utter ignorance of the true facts of the case.

HOW SHE WAS DISCOVERED.

Mrs. Berry kept her at the public schools in Atlanta, so that she obtained a fair education, and would have entered the Girls' High school this fall. But their circumstances were very moderate, and the life of the girl was spent amid very humble surroundings.

When the matter got into the courts the sensational developments caused other papers to copy the story. By that means the old physician heard of the long lost child and wrote to the Atlanta authorities. The parents of the girl were also informed of her whereabouts, and she decided, after spending several months very pleasantly in the home of her guardian, to return to her father and mother, of whose existence she had lived so long without any knowledge.

By a curious coincidence her father, who had some sort of land claim against the federal government, was successful in pushing his claims, and came into possession of some very valuable property in South Carolina. Already in comfortable circumstances, this added a great deal to the wealth of the family, so that the girl whose life has been so full of romance, found herself one of a happy family, surrounded by all that wealth and refinement can contribute to the enjoyments of life.

She has written back to her Atlanta friends, and expresses herself as very happy and contented in her new-found home. Her name is now Miss Ida Elliott, and she has bidden farewell forever to the name and home where the earlier part of her life was spent.

Call and get plats for our auction sale and barbecue at Big Shanty, Thursday, December 5th. Train leaves carshed at 7:50. You can return almost any time in the day, as there are 20 trains to and from Atlanta. W. M. Scott & Co. tue wed

The New York Ledger contains the first of Mr. H. W. Grady's letters on "The South." Everybody in Georgia should read it. You can get it of John M. Miller, Opera House Bookstore.

Tottering to Its Base.

Health totters to its very foundations when vigor begins to wane. To check its loss, to repair the general damage to the constitution which this inflicts, impaired digestion must be rendered active, the conversion of food into blood must be facilitated. No tonic on earth can accomplish this so effectually as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a remedy also for malaria, constipation and biliousness.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

A Burglar

requires courage, but imitators have the qualities of a burglar without his courage. Johann Hoff's Malt Extract is so popular that it has been imitated. See that the signature of "Johann Hoff" is on the neck of every bottle. Eisner & Mendelson Co., sole agents, 6 Barclay street, New York.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A Matter of Life and Death.

The undersigned feel that they have a right to the attention of the public this morning.

1st. Because they have been for years reputable druggists of Atlanta.

2d. Because the matter they discuss is a matter of life and death, affecting every citizen.

There is common sense in all business. It is common sense that controls all business. It is to the common sense of the public that we appeal. What does adulteration of drugs mean?

It means the life or the death of a member of your family. Nothing is more exact than a doctor's prescription. He judges your sick one and decides how much of a certain drug the patient should have. If the prescriptions, pretending to be what the doctor prescribes, is more or less tampered with the death of the patient often follows.

To adulterate groceries is a swindle. To adulterate drugs may be murder.

The Georgia Pharmacentical association, to protect the health and lives of the public, petitioned for the law under which the adulteration of drugs is now a felony. Adulterators have escaped heretofore, and they may escape again, because it is almost impossible to detect adulteration, but they cannot escape the inexorable logic of common sense.

After this statement if those who have sick children, sick wives or sick husbands, are willing to risk their lives with adulterated drugs we feel that we have at least discharged our duty to the public, and have vindicated our own business methods. With the above we submit the whole matter to the public.

We shall continue, for the convenience of our customers, and that no one need be forced to incur the risk of adulterated goods by going elsewhere, to furnish a line of cut goods at prices we have advertised, which are lower than any others, although we are forced to do so at a distinct and positive loss. This loss we hope to make good in the confidence and support of the public in the future.

E. B. WALKER PROPERTY

POSTPONED ON ACCOUNT OF THE STORM.

IN KIRKWOOD, GEORGIA,

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 10TH, 1889.

I WILL SELL UPON THE PREMISES, ONE-HALF mile south of Kirkwood depot, on Georgia railroad, fronting on Fair street extension, on Tuesday, 10th of December, 1889, at 1 o'clock, p. m., five farms, containing from 20 to 40 acres each, as per plat and posters.

The late Colonel E. B. Walker's beautiful home place in land lot 180, of 15th district in Kirkwood, has been surveyed and divided into five small farms.

Lot A, 32.15 acres, beautiful front, orchard, open land, running water, oak and pine timber.

B, 32.28 acres, orchard, open land, oak timber, running water, fine front and residence site, seven room modern style cottage, with kitchen, barn, stable, carriage house, grapes, figs, pears, berries, apples, and everything that is toothsome and nice; one of the coolest country homes in Georgia. Go out and examine it. Hear me!

C, 32.40 acres, cleared land, running water, oak and pine timber.

D, 40.63 acres, cloared land, running water, oak and pine timber.

The above four tracts all front on Fair street road.

E, 20.79 acres, is on public road leading from Decatur to Fayetteville, and in rear of Thos. Walker's country home.

And the lots are one-half mile from Kirkwood depot, and in one of the very best suburban communities in Georgia, possessing wealth, culture, refinement and social position.

All the tracts are desirable for parties wanting ground for gardens, orchards, dairies, with clear, running water.

Convenient to accommodating railroad facilities, churches, schools, and good neighborhood.

Titles undisputable. Terms, one-third cash, balance, one and two years, with 8 per cent interest, or all cash at option of purchaser.

Get a plat, go out and examine all the property and take Georgia railroad accommodation train at 12:50 and attend the sale. G. W. ADAIR,
